SACRAMENTO, May 21.—Special Agent Daniel O'Connell advised headquarters of the Southern Pacific today that a mail pouch and apparently most of its contents had been found between Newcastle and Roseville today, giving the first clue to the lone mail bandit who robbed train No. 10 last night. Shortly afterward he wired that trace had also been found of where the bandit entered the brush and started posse pursuing him on the point in effort to effect capture. O'Connell expressed the belief that check would show that the bandit took but one pouch.

LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
SACRAMENTO, May 21.—There was no registered mail aboard the mail car robbed by the lone bandit near Newcastle last night, according to J. King, charge of the railway terminal here.

Postal Inspector Lewis of San Francisco has been going over the list of mail said to be in the car at the time of the robbery.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
SACRAMENTO, May 21.—United States Postal Inspector W. J. Madeira arrived here early today to direct personally the search by two deputies for the mail car robbed by the lone bandit who last night looted the mail car of the Pacific Limited train on the Southern Pacific railroad of several sacks of mail after knocking Postal Clerk Ralph Decker unconscious with a blow on the head with the butt of a revolver.

The robbery occurred one mile east of Newcastle and twenty miles east of here. The robber slit open 12 sacks of mail before selecting the seven which he threw from the train, escaped in an automobile. Postal officials stated that the bandit was in the car. Inspector Madeira expressed the belief that the mail robbery may have been carried out by Roy Gardner, escaped mail robber, who recently eluded posse which surrounded in Gordon valley near Napa.

Gardner was identified by Decker as the man who committed the robbery. The identification was made through a photograph.

CLERK IS UNABLE TO MAKE USE OF GUN.

Decker was armed but had no opportunity to use his gun. He declared the unmasked bandit had hidden in the car and sprung upon him from behind and when Decker attempted to struggle struck him a heavy blow on the head with the butt of a revolver. The bandit took Decker's keys but the task of unhooking the mail bags was evidently too slow a process, as he used a knife to slash open the sacks.

The other members of the train force were apprised that there had been a robbery when the signal cord was pulled, stopping the train. Investigating, they found Decker unconscious and saw the mail bandit drive away in a waiting automobile. They said another man had been waiting at the wheel of the automobile.

DESCRIPTION OF BANDIT IS GIVEN BY CLERK.

Decker, when revived, told officers the bandit was unmasked, about 35 years of age, 5 feet 11 inches in height, weighed 160 pounds, and wore a blue shirt and blue trousers. The Pacific Limited left San Francisco last evening at 6 p. m. The robbery occurred at 11:30 p. m. Local officials are inclined to believe that the robbery was committed by the two men who were foiled in an attempt to rob the mail storage car in the San Francisco-Ogden express carlier in the week.

Oakland to Make Gains by Co-operation With Farmers; Water Program Prepared

DEVELOPING INITIATIVE ON AID INCLUDES JOHNSON BILL, AGRICULTURE ONE PROPOSAL

Representative Men of Bay
Region Join At Sacramento Conference to Boost for the Prosperity of California

By AD B. SCHUSTER

SACRAMENTO, May 21.—The farmers of Northern California are today putting to the test the efficacy of the municipalities around San Francisco to boost the interests of this end of the state. At this conference for state-wide development, which opened here today, out of which may come a long-delayed understanding between the city and country, the agriculturalists are exhibiting a frank, but friendly, "show-me" spirit.

In other words, the farmer members present at the big get-together arranged by the California Development Board and the California Industries Association have the new booster movement in the test tube and are holding it up to the light of their own standards and, in doing so, are furnishing an event not scheduled on the printed program.

QUESTION OF FARM IS LEADING ONE.

Led by Joseph H. King, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, and who is to have charge of the discussion late today, a large delegation of Oakland business men, together with one from San Francisco, is the most conspicuous body of representatives here. From all ends of the state there are business men, representatives of farmers' selling agencies, irrigators and plain dirt farmers. And the big question is: What is the city going to do for the farm?

There is a large measure of immediate interest in this conference if action is to follow word and intent. A generous promise of a mutual understanding has been indicated in the effort to farmer and city man is apparent.

Oakland and the Eastbay cities, actively and prominently represented by men who are eager to give their aid and understanding, hold the unique position as being that community through which the products of a vast and immensely wealthy empire must pass to market.

WIFE'S NOTE MYSTERY OF AUTO DEATH

Separation Pact Signed With Spouse Found On Body of Nevada City Merchant Who Was Killed in Accident

Disappearance of Widow Who Would Share Estate F. W.
Taylor Adds to Enigma; No
Reason Given for Parting

By AD B. SCHUSTER

Mystery shrouds the separation pact between F. W. Taylor, Nevada City merchant, which was signed in Sacramento by Taylor and his bride a few weeks ago. Mrs. Myrtle Taylor, last Monday morning, the day Mrs. Taylor departed, supposedly for the bay cities, that night Taylor was killed near Rocklin, Placer county, when the automobile in which he was driving home overturned on the highway.

George Taylor of 2513 Rose street, Berkeley, son of decedent, and his two sisters, Doris and Zola, both students in the University of California, have gone to Nevada City in an endeavor to unravel the mystery. All efforts thus far to locate Mrs. Taylor have proved futile, although the bay cities have been searched for traces of her.

WIFE FORMERLY WED TO MAN SLAIN IN FRANCE.

Previous to her marriage Mrs. Taylor was Mrs. Myrtle Randerknecht. She was a nurse in the San Francisco hospital. Taylor told his children, it is said, that her former husband, went to Germany when the war broke out and was killed in France. His wife, however, did not believe the Germans is said to have caused her great suffering. Rumors in Nevada City are to the effect that possibly her former husband had turned up alive and that this is the cause for the mysterious separation.

From all that is learned from relatives and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were married in Nevada City, and the marriage was a happy one. Taylor was a well-to-do man, and his death was a great loss to the community.

NOTE FROM SON OF MRS. TAYLOR IN BOOK.

The note of separation was, written in Taylor's own handwriting and was signed by his wife. On the next page the note book was a note scribbled in childish hand by Taylor's little son. Some words are missing. This note read:

"This what I am sorry and will respect you in a many way. I am very sorry to see you but I will see you sometime."

"(Signed)
"ALFRED TAYLOR."

Following this was a series of jumbled lines in which Taylor, writing with these words often repeated, "Dear father, I love you."

Just why a couple who appeared in every way to love each other should become separated in this manner is puzzling relatives and friends.

Taylor was one of the best-known men in Nevada county. He had served the county as public administrator and also as treasurer. As no will was left a third of the estate under the law goes to the widow.

PRINCESS NADEDA TROUBETSKOY of Russia, whose democratic alliance with Captain Schultz of Milwaukee has been annulled at Green Bay, Wisconsin.

Princess' Union With Banker Broken by Court

Royal Visitor in S. F. Gets the News of Order Issued by Green Bay Judge.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Just as the princesses in the fairy tales were rescued from fire-breathing monsters, so the Princess Nadezhda Troubetzkoy of Russia, according to word received by her today, has been rescued from the clutches of a monster who had been rescuing her from the clutches of a monster.

The modern knight who rescued the princess from her matrimonial prison was Circuit Judge Henry C. Green of Green Bay, Wis., who annulled the marriage far from contesting the suit the princess is said to have had enough of matrimony, of the democratic variety, at least.

In the hearing at Green Bay yesterday, Schultz stated that the princess had another husband who, although he was supposed to be dead, was living in New York State. This other husband's name is given as Victor A. Turin and it is said that he was an Imperial Guard. The attorney for Schultz produced at the hearing copies of the marriage documents establishing the proof of this former ceremony.

The princess, however, says that she brought suit for divorce in spite of the fact that she had sufficient proof to prove her statement that her first husband had been killed in France during the war.

French Premier Delays Council

LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
BRISTOL, May 21.—British forces in the Rhine district are preparing to send a military contingent into Upper Silesia, according to reports received here from Cologne today.

Unofficial advice stated that the British commander under orders from London was making up a provisional division consisting of two brigades of infantry, three batteries of field artillery and a usual complement of cavalry, fliers and pioneers.

LONDON, May 21.—With the British urging speed in the settlement of the Upper Silesian question by the supreme council, the French continued to play for time today.

Premier Briand informed the British government that he agrees, in principle, with the proposed special meeting of the council to consider the problem, but that it must await completion of the debate in the chamber of deputies over his foreign policy.

Inasmuch as the chamber has adjourned until Tuesday, it is not believed the council can meet before Friday. The debate is almost certainly to run through Wednesday and 36 hours must elapse before Count Sforza, foreign minister of Italy, can reach Boulogne after official notification.

PARIS, May 21.—The cabinet met today and discussed the reply which Premier Briand will make to the critics of the Government's general policy when the chamber of deputies convenes on Tuesday. It is possible that Premier Briand may go beyond the usual declaration of policy and reply in detail to Deputy Forest, who urged that France repudiate the London indemnity agreement.

Gustav Herze, writing in La Vie, said that the position cannot be compared with that of America, which repudiated the treaty of Versailles, since the United States was not damaged by the war.

The report was current in circles close to the French foreign office that Colonel George Harvey, American ambassador in England, will have a "deliberative vote" in the supreme council when it takes up the Silesian question and will not attend but will merely be in a consultative capacity.

French officials were much perturbed by a report that Premier Briand had discussed the Upper Silesian troubles with Washington before he made his warning speech in the House of Commons last week. Around this report the premier had some sort of tacit agreement with Secretary of State Hughes before he threw down the gauntlet to France and Poland.

PARIS, May 21.—The cabinet today informed France that her attitude on the Upper Silesian question is unchanged.

An official note, forwarded by Lord Curzon, British ambassador of state for foreign affairs, to Premier Briand reiterated the British stand on Upper Silesia, which was said to be the same as that outlined by Briand and Curzon in his recent address before the House of Commons—that Germany has a right to defend her province of Upper Silesia from Polish aggression.

PROGRAM FRAMED BY LEAGUE TO GET WATER EXPANSION

Action Proposed Includes the Initiative to Put Johnson
Bill Before People.

file some with commission, where it may be open to public inspection. All of these actions are being taken in resolutions adopted by unanimous vote. The first it was declared by speakers, means the opening of what promises to be a historic fight. While it is admitted that more than half of the hydro-electric power is now held by private corporations, it would seek to save the rest for the cities, and is aimed to prevent speculation. Already, speakers declared, the campaign against this initiative has been started.

GOVERNOR SIGNS, GIVES SUPPORT.
Governor Stephens appeared before the league and issued an applause, signed Senate Bill 18, making it possible for cities and counties to join to do anything that any city or county can now do, and he gave his support to the program of the league.

"Study the Johnson bill, analyze it, and if it is what you want, put it forward," was the governor's intimation of support to the main resolution.

None of the speakers were hesitant in recognizing the magnitude of the campaign about to be undertaken. A committee on organization, headed by Mayor Louis Bartlett of Berkeley, perfected a scheme by which a large sum of money could be raised to supply the needs.

It calls for a committee composed of the state engineer, the executive member of the water commission and Clyde Seavey, recently resigned member of the board of control and to be seated as city manager of Sacramento in July, to perform immediate service until the issue is decided at the election. The committee is to work until senate bill 18, allowing cities and counties to form groups and to supply data concerning sites on which they may file. It will locate these sites under the federal act, raise money, and assure publicity to the program. It is planned to ask $100 from each city of 5000 inhabitants with $1 for each thousand and over that number; $50 from cities of from 2000 to 5000, and $25 from smaller cities.

City Manager C. E. Hewes of Alameda as president of the league, presided at all of the sessions, and W. J. Locke of the same city was secretary. The committee on organization was: Louis Bartlett, Berkeley; Fred A. Wheeler, Los Angeles; Horace Porter, Riverside; H. A. Mason, San Francisco; Robert Shinn, Sacramento.

On resolutions included: D. J. Hall, Richmond; G. M. Lorraine, Alhambra; James H. Howard, Pasadena; W. J. Locke, Alameda, and D. W. Carmichael, Sacramento. Today many of the league members are meeting with the California Irrigation Association where a row is brewing over a plan to put the Marshall plan, in its entirety, on the ballot. A faction is asking that a $200,000,000 bond issue be submitted with the issue distributed over a long period of years and that the entire gigantic plan be started. The other faction believes that the survey as provided in the bill before the governor should be made first and that the ultimate plan be approached step by step.

Oakland Will Gain Through Farmers' Help

Co-operation Will Be Put to Experiment in Project for State Development.

presence of the threescore from Oakland is evidence of the recognition of the opportunity.

In the days of poor roads and horse-drawn vehicles and when the Contra Costa hills cut off the prosperous hinterland from the bay cities there was little city attention paid to back country problems, and the habit has persisted. Now, when in one day the motor trucks are carrying to the Bay area more produce than the trains used to bear in a week and when the trains and steamers are carrying a greatly increased amount, there are signs of an awakening. A land as big and rich as the valley of the Nile sends its wealth to the bay cities and is looking to the bay cities for that encouragement and cooperation that has long been lacking.

All this is mentioned by way of background for today's conference. The country is expecting definite things from the city and is here to list them. And the city, professedly, is here to listen and to learn. Brought to the question is, "How much does Oakland value the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys?" How much does she value the good soil of agricultural Northern California?

The farmer is asking an urban consciousness of his problems, a city recognition broad enough to instruct legislative delegations to cease working as city units against agricultural units. He would have the cities interest themselves in the California crops to the extent of demanding some produce and it would have and given in moving the crops at time when market conditions are adverse. To stop the drift from farm to city the farmer would have agriculture taught in city schools, just enough of it to impart the essentials, and to give the farm impetus to those boys and girls naturally disposed toward agricultural pursuits. City help in transportation, market and labor problems are other things he asks and he would have the city aid in putting through his projects for increased irrigation, storage and power facilities.

All of these things are being told to the conference today, Dr. R. M. Hastall being the main spokesman for the farmers. Condensed, the message is that every one should recognize that agriculture is still the state's greatest industry and that without this recognition agriculture is threatened.

With the farmers here Oakland the conference convened this morning in Masonic hall, with Frederick J. Koster of San Francisco presiding. William J. Dutton, president of the California Development Board, called the session to order and Dr. B. M. Rastall followed with his outline of what the farmers expect of the city.

King defined modern industry and traced the change in the industrial arrangement of the country, in an address on "The Chamber of Commerce as Industrial Developers." He said in part:

"It is evident that everyone who lives must live to work; and while work is not and should not be the chief end of living it is, nevertheless, the chief occupation of life. Both mental and physical effort constitute work and both are an inseparable part of the business work."

"The modern working world is a highly organized business, separating workers into distinct groups, each having some particular task, the combined result of their efforts being a continuous flow of good that supplies the wants of man. This principle results in the high degree of specialization that is the dominant characteristic of modern industrial methods. The result is to make all industry intensely co-operative."

The speaker defined the purpose of industry as "the production of goods that can be sold, or to render service for the price paid," and classified the main industries under three groups: the extracting, the manufacturing and the carrying.

Environment including climate, schools, parks, public health, housing, power and water are all matters with which industry is vitally concerned, according to King. Knowledge of all these things is necessary to sell the advantages of a community to an industrial leader," he said.

There followed a discussion of the marketing of agricultural products, with G. Harold Powell of Los Angeles, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, in charge. C. H. McIntosh of San Francisco spoke of the financial aspects and George J. Bradley of Sacramento of the traffic problems, both pleading aid. The dairymen had an hour before luncheon to tell of their problems and of their relation to the city. This afternoon water power, chambers of commerce and advancing were discussed and the work of the farm bureaus and of exhibits was explained with suggestions as to how the urban communities could aid. A banquet, with Governor Stephens as a speaker, will be held tonight.

Oakland Men Go to Win "Hinterland"

Oakland's delegation to the State-wide conference in Sacramento today departed early in the morning over the Sacramento short line.

joining with a large party of San Franciscans in a special train.

In addition to those going by train a number went to the capital last night by boat and over the Southern Pacific and more by auto this morning.

Headed by President J. H. King of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, the local business and professional men and manufacturers went with the determination to win the "hinterland" to Oakland.

King pointed out to the party just before its departure the already strong hold this city has on the country districts, saying:

"This is our opportunity to strengthen the bonds between the country districts and Oakland. We have always been held in high esteem by the rural sections because we have always played square with them. With the state awakening to its possibilities, it is a certainty that Oakland will be the big winner from the conference because of the advantages it offers in the way of water and rail transportation for the products of the interior."

Most of the Oakland representatives will return tonight on the special train.

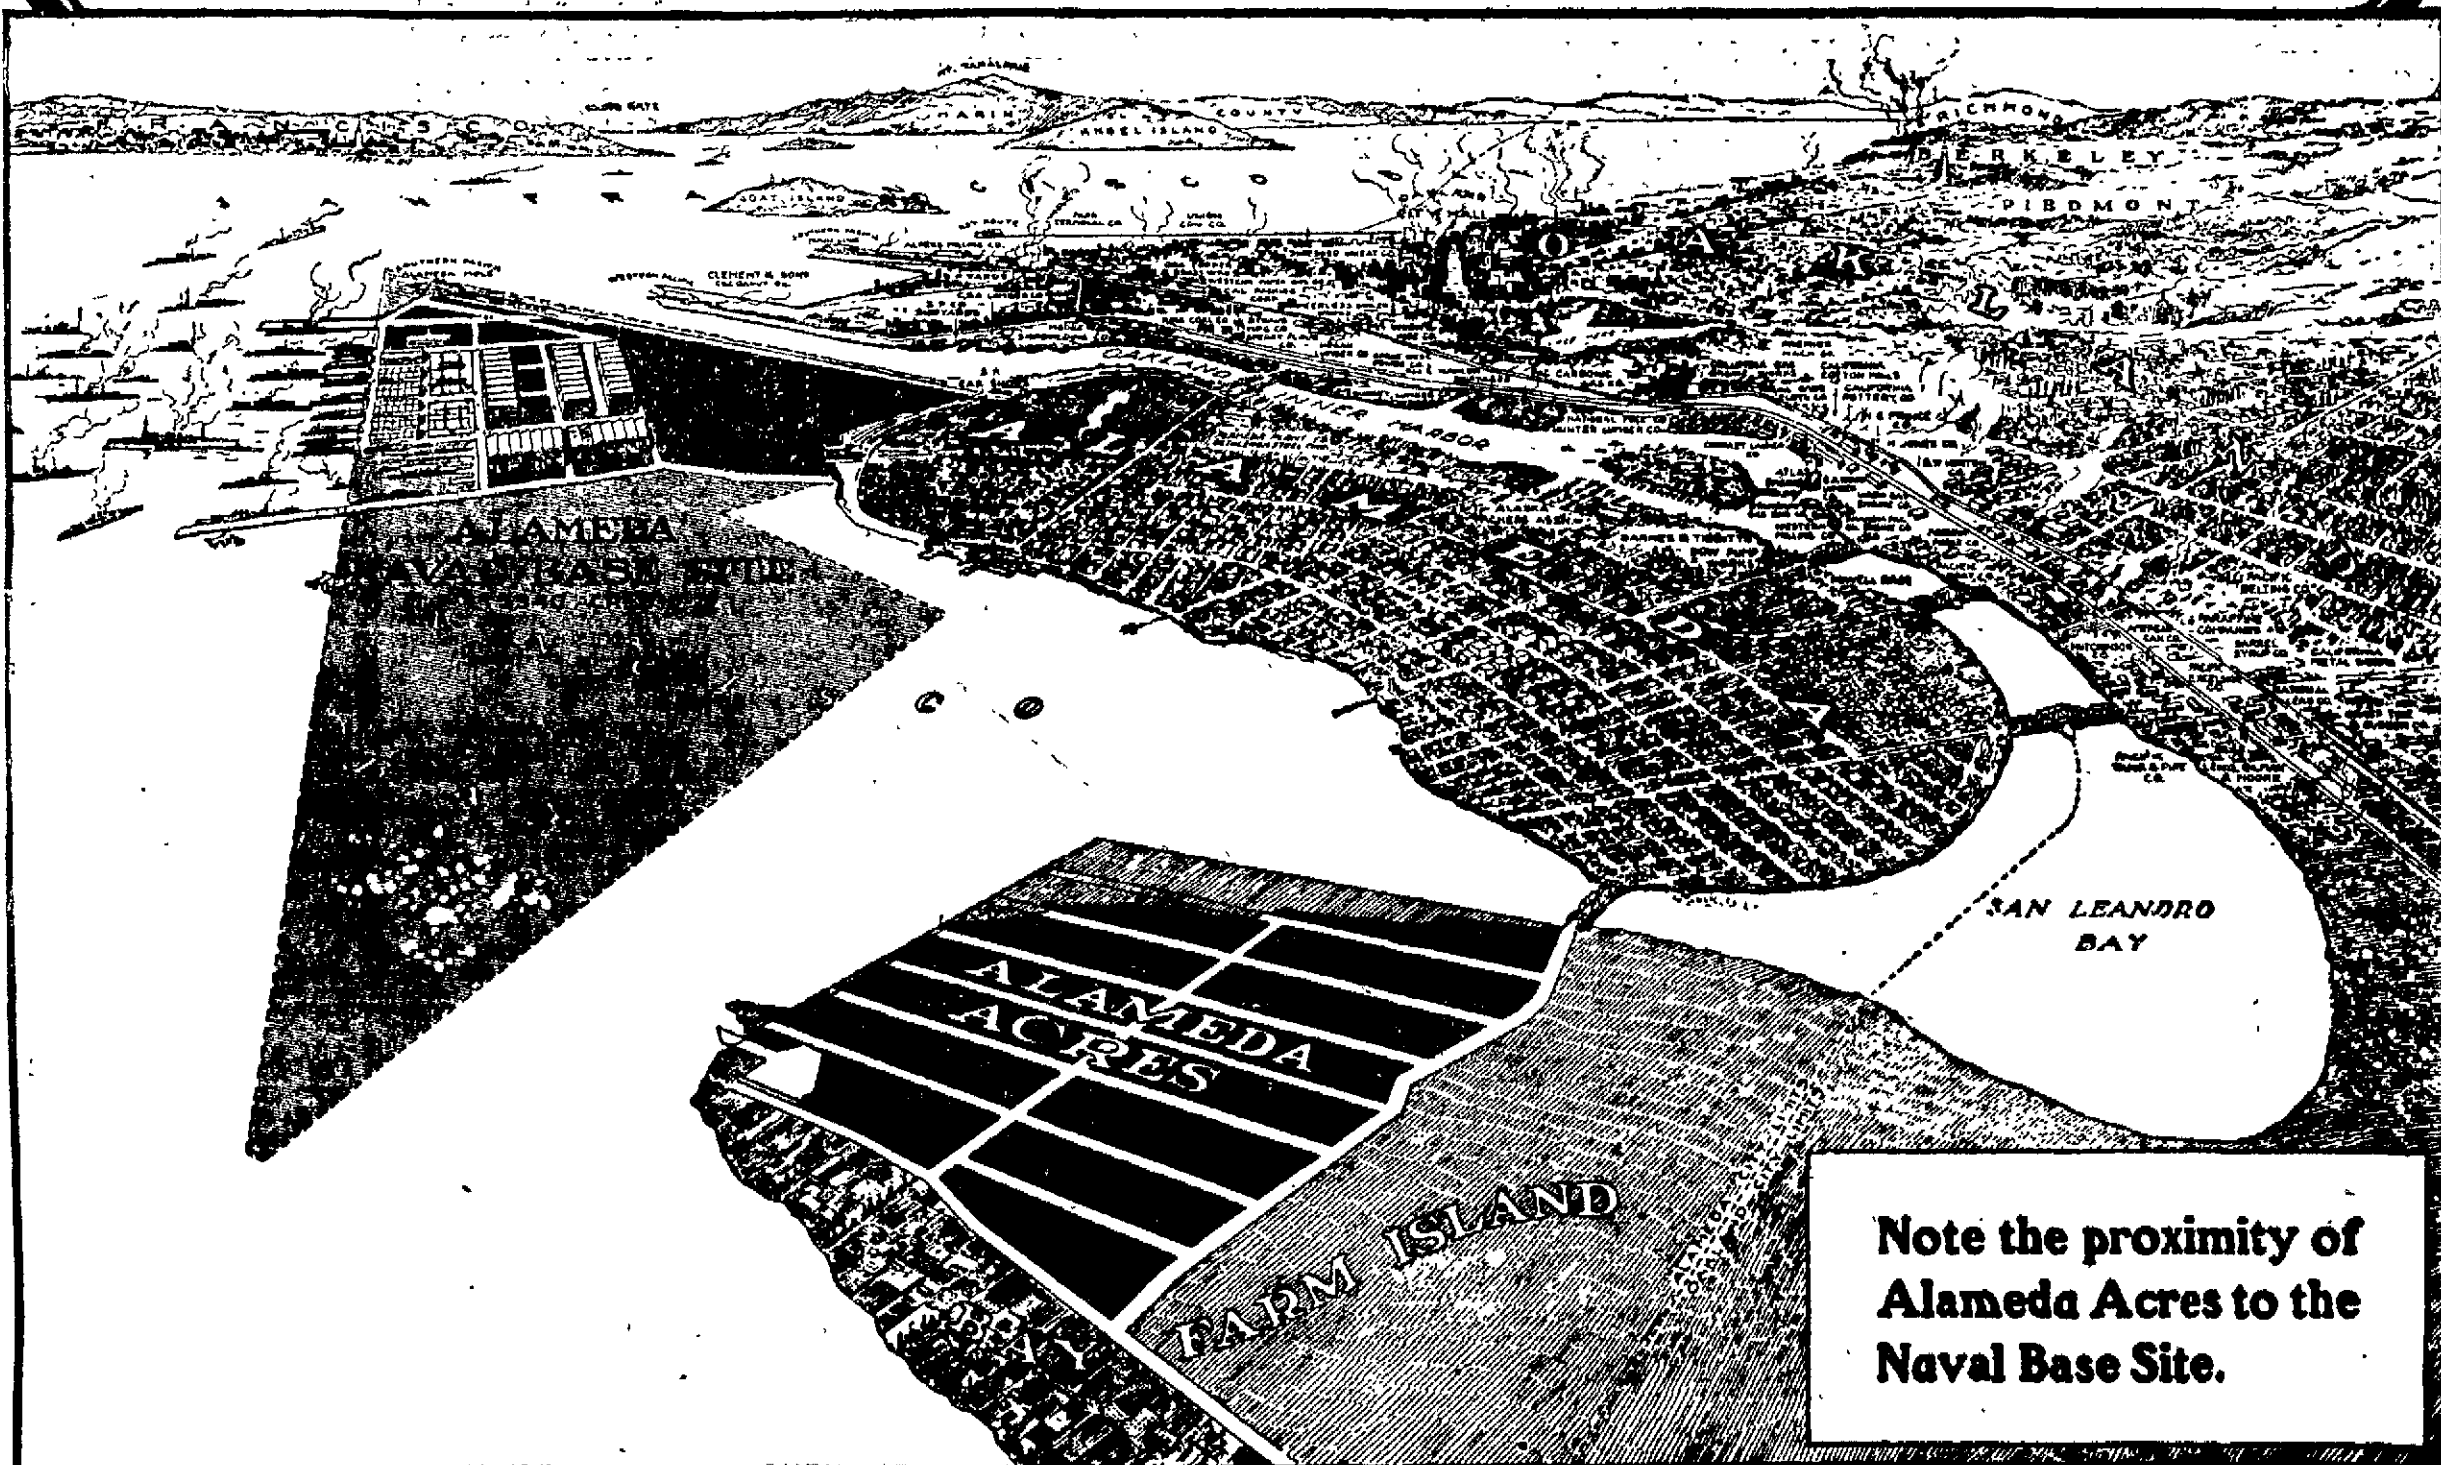

Among those representing the Oakland Chamber of Commerce were: Harmon, Bell, Eugene

Bowles, Hugh S. Carpenter, Walter D. Cole, P. A. Dinsmore, Col. John D. Ish, James E. Kestor, Joseph H. King, V. O. Lawrence, W. H. Mayhew, J. J. McElroy, F. A. Mac-

Hugh, J. R. Miller, H. A. Mosher, Les H. Newhart, Fred E. Reed, T. W. Reese, Chas. E. Thatcher, E. A. Vandewater, James Warraack, H. H. Whiting.

Be Our Guest Tomorrow —ride out in one of the new busses

TRANSPORTATION entered Montclair today, in the form of a bus line extension operated by the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways. These busses will meet the Piedmont Avenue cars and Key Route at 40th and Piedmont. This makes Montclair only 6c, and 18 minutes from the hotel, shopping and theater section of Oakland, and 41 minutes from the Ferry Building. This is permanent service until a street car line is installed. With your own car you can drive to the Oakland City Hall in 11 minutes.

To celebrate the coming of transportation into Montclair today we will keep open house today and tomorrow. You are invited to an open-air house-warming on the 2500-acre property. Drive out, over the Moraga Road, or transfer to the new bus line from the Piedmont Avenue car line or Key Route at Piedmont and 40th. Wander at will over the hills and dales of Montclair. You'll find among its acre and half-acre many homesites upon which you could build the home of your dreams.

THINK what it would mean to you to have an acre all your own. Room for the children to grow strong and rugged in the fresh air; to play without disturbing the neighbors; to have pets. Freedom and privacy for the grown-ups, too. Room to plant trees, flowers—vegetables, too, if you wish. Room to build the kind of a house you'd like—spread out over plenty of ground to save your wife so much running up and down stairs. You owe it to yourselves to own an acre or a half acre in Montclair.

MONTCLAIR

is within the city limits of Oakland, just east of Piedmont and south of Claremont. It is the same high-grade property as these adjoining districts. Suppose you had bought an acre in Piedmont when it was opened. Your acre would be worth $60 a front foot today. In Los Angeles a similar home section, just 18 minutes from the business center—as Montclair is—was recently advertised in sites from a third to three acres for $4800 to $34,000. Compare that with Montclair prices today.

Half Acre Homesites $500 to $2000

$50

down buys any homesite

Then small monthly payments. No interest or taxes until July 1, 1922

Ten miles of surfaced roads and boulevards are now being completed in Montclair. The property has been laid out according to the best landscape engineering plans, so that the individuality of each homesite has been preserved. Building restrictions of $3500 to $10,000, depending upon the size of the estate and its location, protect your investment.

Nothing smaller than a half acre will be sold in Montclair. Yet you can buy an acre here for the price of a forty-foot lot in other good residence sections. Water, electricity, surfaced roads and transportation, both local and Key Route, are included in the purchase price, too. Nothing like this has been offered in years.

SIMPLE BURIAL RITES HELD FOR JUSTICE WHITE

Associates On Bench Accompany Body to Cemetery As Pallbearers

By GEORGE R. HOLMES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—With the same look of resignation that marked his long and useful life, Edward Douglas White, fifth chief justice of the United States Supreme Court, was laid to his long rest today.

The services for the noted jurist were impressive in their simplicity. Only the flags drooping at half mast in the city, and the presence of governmental buildings and courts, closed in honor of the dead, gave a sense of the magnitude of the official Washington with the passing of one of its greatest members.

The services were conducted from St. Matthew's church, but a few blocks from the home of the late justice in Rhode Island avenue.

It would not hold a tenth of those who sought admission to do final honor to his memory. Members of the family, higher officials of the government and the intimate friends of the dead man made up the company who found places inside the church. Many unable to gain admission, stood respectfully in the outer sunshine until the services were over.

The venerable pastor of the church, the Rt. Rev. Thomas S. Lee, was celebrant of the high mass of requiem. He had been a close friend and neighbor of the chief justice for many years.

Following conclusion of the brief services at St. Matthew's, the body was taken to Oak Hill cemetery in Georgetown for burial. Accompanying it as honorary pallbearers were the eight surviving members of the supreme court—Justices McKenna, Holmes, Day, Brandeis, Clegg, McReynolds, Brandeis and Clark—the first of whom served on the bench with the dead justice upwards of 20 years.

S. F. Chinese Condemn 'Bookkeeping' Law

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—The Chinese Consulate at San Francisco today passed resolutions condemning the "bookkeeping law" passed recently by the Philippine legislature, and urged its repeal. The law forbids the keeping of books in any other language than English, Spanish or native dialects. There is said to be much sentiment among Chinese in the islands against the measure.

The Chinese Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco and the Chinese Freemason Society here have ratified the resolution, an association announcement said.

PROF. C. J. BUDLONG, Manchester, N. H.

"It's an actual fact, I'm in good health for the first time in thirty years and I owe my present physical condition to Tanlac and nothing else," was the emphatic statement of Prof. C. J. Budlong, well-known and highly respected citizen of Manchester, N. H., residing at 42 School street.

"Practically all my life I had had rheumatism, and when I say rheumatism I mean every word of it. It was all over my body and especially in my feet and legs and there were times when I couldn't get from my bed to my chair without help. And from the time I was a boy I couldn't sit down and eat a good meal without being in misery afterwards and I would have terrible pains around my heart and frequent attacks of palpitation and dizziness.

Younger Set Interested in Arrivals

The arrival from Coronado tomorrow morning of Lieutenant Herbert Sidney Jones, U. S. N., and Mrs. Jones with their little one will interest the younger set, the young matron, who was Miss Edna Wilson, being among the most popular of the debutantes before her marriage to the naval officer a few seasons ago.

They will arrive tomorrow morning and will be guests at a breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wilson in honor of the homecoming of their daughter.

Two weeks is to be the length of their sojourn in the bay region, after which they will depart for Washington, D. C., where Lieutenant Jones will go to Annapolis to take a post graduate course in marine engineering, completing the course the second year at Columbia University in New York. They have already secured their apartments in Washington and leased their home in Coronado for a year.

Lieutenant Merwin Wade and Mrs. Wade and their little son with Mrs. John Holland Mallett are making their home in an attractive bungalow at Long Beach.

Captain Charles Grimm, U. S. M. C., and Mrs. Grimm left for the southland Thursday afternoon after an extended visit in the bay region, during their stay here they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Jarrell, Valley of Vernon Heights. Mrs. Grimm before her marriage was Miss Virginia Barton Calley and will be remembered as the godmother of the Seventy-first company, Seventh regiment, U. S. M. C., which Captain Grimm commanded.

An elaborate tea was given at Hotel Oakland Tuesday by Mrs. Mary Cameron Benjamin in honor of Miss Gracinda Harrison, fiancée of Charles Keeler, Berkeley poet. The table decorations were in pink and white and dainty favors were bestowed upon each guest. Those present were: Mrs. Mary Cameron Benjamin, Miss Gracinda Harrison, Mrs. Edgar L. Ormsby, Miss Zannetto W. Potter, Mrs. Torrey Connor, Mrs. Frances Wilson, Miss Kidd, Mrs. Blossom Tose, Mrs. Marian Webb, Miss Mignon Whistler and Miss Louise Maguire.

WILL MOTOR TO DEL MONTE

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Noah Dewey are to motor to Del Monte to remain for ten days and will leave Monday for the resort. They will spend most of their time upon the links, both being devotees of golf.

Mrs. J. S. Street of Valle Vista avenue has received a cablegram from Honolulu announcing the marriage of her sister, Miss Anne Street, and Leo G. Schuman. It was an afternoon ceremony at Central Union church. The service was conducted by Rev. Albert W. Palmer, former pastor of Plymouth Congregational church of this city. Mrs. Johnson Ford Street, mother of the bride, was a guest at the wedding, having accompanied her daughter to the Paramino, James Dunn, J. Atwell, Ernest Black. Thursday, June 2, Mrs. Hoyt will entertain for Mrs. Walter Behr.

Mrs. H. D. Poole entertained at luncheon and bridge at the Sequoyah Country Club in honor of Mrs. Milton H. Robbins.

A delightful shower was tendered last evening to Miss Harriet Gawley of Berkeley, whose betrothal to John J. Griffin of Oakland was announced a short time ago. The affair was given at the home of Miss Gertrude Lanzer, and members of the Piffi Klub, Delta Omega Sigma and Assembly Club were guests of the evening. The gifts were all clustered in the center of the table and completely covered with a tower of ferns and roses. Among those present were: Miss Antoinette Lemola, Miss Florence Beck, Miss Marjorie White, Miss Mary Jensen, Miss Harriet Ellis, Miss Ethel Gawley, Miss Stella Ghibble, Miss Kathleen Smith, Miss Marion Van Horn, Mrs. Dorothy Bonta, Miss Iva Ghibble, Miss Alina Hoffmann, Miss Constance Scott, Miss Agnes Rheault, Miss Betty Long, Mrs. Clayton Garvey, Miss Myrtle Baldwin, Miss Evangeline Terry and Miss Gertrude Lanzer, Mrs. Jos. ## Foch in 'Civies' At Meeting of Veterans

PARIS, May 21.—Marshal Fayolle, in the full regalia of a marshal of France, the marquis de la Motte, was presiding over a meeting of French War Veterans at the Invalides the other night, when he espied Marshal Foch, in civilian clothes, across the hall, and he called to the platform and trying to appear inconspicuous between a former private and a corporal.

"What are you doing there?" he called out from the stage. "Your place is up here, come right here this minute," he added in mock serious tone.

After the meeting, as they were leaving the hall, some one overheard Marshal Fayolle ask Marshal Foch something to this effect: "What was the idea of occupying a hard bench in the audience when you could sit on a nice easy chair on the platform?"

Foch replied: "I just wanted to see how a marshal of France looked in uniform to a mere civilian."

Women's Clubs Have Big Program For Yosemite

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Outstanding figures in the twentieth annual convention of California Federation of Women's Clubs, opening a four-day session in the Yosemite National Park, will be two presidents who have recently achieved honors in the world of affairs. Mrs. Edward Dexter Knight, executive leader between 1916-18, and Mrs. Herbert A. Cable, who succeeded her in the two years following, have been recognized by the important group which they served in their new capacities.

Mrs. Knight has recently taken over the newly created women's department of the Bank of Italy, and is accredited with being one of the keenest minds in local banking circles. She will lead one of the large early morning conferences of convention week on Friday morning, "Women and Finance" will be considered.

Mrs. Cable was recently named a deputy state labor commissioner, "Living Machines" is the subject of the address which she is scheduled to give on Thursday night. Dr. Alice Luce of Mills College faculty will share the platform with Mrs. Cable on this occasion, reviewing "The Contribution of the Woman's College to Modern Education."

Arthur Farwell, American composer, and members of the World Symphony Orchestra of San Francisco, who are touring the valley to render the pageant music, will present the opening program on Tuesday night. "The Pageant-Drama and its Future" will be presented by Farwell, who has composed parts of the pageant music.

Wednesday has been dedicated to the great out-of-door presentation of "California—the Land of Dreams." Thursday will witness the annual election of officers, first reading of the resolutions committee report and the disposal of much other business.

The two addresses on Friday morning will be given by Mrs. A. L. Miller, state chairman of music, and Dr. Mariana Bertola, San Francisco, chairman of the vigilance committee. Mrs. Frank A. Gibson, state housing and immigration commission, will offer in the afternoon a general summing up of the Americanization effort of the federation which has attracted the notice of the nation. Mrs. Martha Nelson McCann, Los Angeles Park commissioner, will speak on "The City Park as a Community Developer" before adjournment Friday afternoon.

An evening program is arranged with Francis J. Heney as the speaker. His subject will be "Conservation of Forests and Waterways of California."

A full equipment of warm clothing is being urged upon delegates. Evening gowns are ruled against wear. Those leaving Sunday morning on the "Convention Special," arriving on the floor of the valley at 7:15 p. m., are asked to provide themselves with basket lunches.

Conduct of elections is apt to be one of the questions which will lend discussion to the twentieth annual convention. California Congress of Mothers, convening in Oakland next week. There is a general movement among some of the leaders in favor of nominating in state, district, federal and local groups from the floor instead of through the present medium of nominating committees. Democracy is the keynote to the proposed change which large numbers would welcome. On the other hand, a conservative group is forcibly protesting any such contemplated action.

Life membership in the National American Association of University Women will be increased 100 per cent with the first day of June. The privilege of a perpetual affiliation has been advanced from $25 to $50. The California branch is urging its members to take advantage of the few days remaining at the lower rate.

Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, Mrs. E. B. Stanwood and Mrs. Elwyn Stebbins were the guests of honor at the May luncheon today in San Francisco. The following new officers were voted upon: President, Mrs. E. B. Brownell; vice-president, Miss Emma Noonan; recording secretary, Mrs. William J. Drew; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. W. Currier; business secretary, Miss Carol A. Rehbach; treasurer, Mrs. T. C. Baedgen; auditor, Mrs. E. W. Newhall; directors, Miss Anne Whitley, Mrs. T. T. C. Gregory, Miss Marion M. Delany, Miss E. B. McFadden, Miss Ella C. Barrows.

Members of the faculty of Technical School will be entertained at a reception in the auditorium of the school by the local Parent-Teacher association Monday afternoon. Plans are in the making by the philan-

Duplicating Piedmont—MAXWELL PARK

In the character of the property itself, the high-type of development work and the individuality of the homes being built, Maxwell Park might well be termed a veritable "little Piedmont." This wonderful scenic tract is like the city of millionaires in everything but its size and the price of lots.

The location on rolling, tree-grown ground with a backing of green hills and an outlook over the bay region is like that which has made Piedmont famous the world over. Construction is being rushed on sixty-foot, well-paved streets, laid out by landscape engineers to follow the land's natural contour. Curbs and gutters are already installed, and five-foot cement sidewalks will be laid.

The new homes now building or planned for immediate erection are, from the standpoint of architectural design and modern construction, like the homiest, coziest, most beautiful bungalows in the Piedmont section. Over a dozen are now under construction and more than a hundred are to be built as rapidly as possible.

The climatic situation of Maxwell Park is superior to that of Piedmont, being in East Oakland's "warm belt" with freedom from wind and fog.

Maxwell Park is close in, being connected with Oakland's shopping center by two car lines within two blocks, and with San Francisco by Southern Pacific and Key Route trolley lines near at hand. Schools of all grades are near enough so that children can walk home for lunch. Maxwell Park immediately adjoins Melrose Heights, long considered one of East Oakland's choicest home sections.

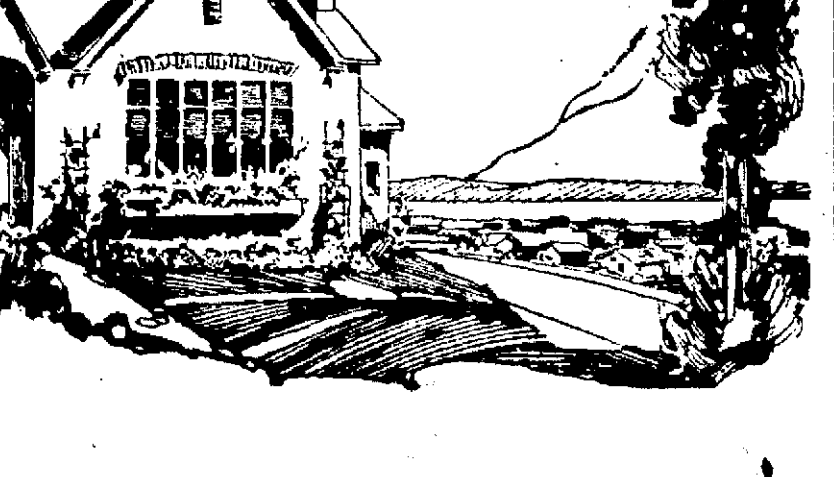

Maxwell Park lots are all 40x100 or larger and sell at prices which usually prevail for less attractive property in the city's outskirts, only $200 to $1400, payable in easy terms after a small initial payment, with no interest or taxes until January 1, 1922.

HUNDRED PER CT. CLUB'S CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS ON

Committee Named At Luncheon; Address Made On the Hydro-Electric Projects.

Following their appointment at a luncheon-meeting yesterday at the Hotel Oakland, a membership committee, authorized to seek and to pass on applications, assumed its duties today for the One Hundred Per Cent Club, a recently organized body to promote civic and industrial development. According to Donald McClure, the temporary chairman of the club, it is planned to have the club's roster filled at the next meeting, when permanent officers probably will be elected, and an application will be made for a national charter.

The principal speaker at yesterday's meeting was Roy R. Coles, of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company of San Francisco. Coles spoke on possibilities of hydro-electric development in California industries. "The electrical industry is one of the greatest industries in the state," Coles said, "and it is the duty of every one to help further its possibilities."

He condemned the use of oil for everything except where it is not possible to secure a substitute and said that it was doing a great deal to retard the effectiveness of the hydro-electric industry.

"California can and will be the greatest state in the Union," he continued. "Its resources are unlimited. It has a wonderful climate and excellent means of sea traffic. Rail facilities were provided by man, but nature took care of everything else. There are 79 hydro-electric plants on streams throughout the state and 9 of these are in California. Lead into a basin which has outlets into San Francisco bay. One of the principal things working against development in the hydro-electric industry today is the overflood, but with the ultimate development of dams and reservoirs, I see no reason why the overflood cannot be cut down to the minimum."

Coles was particularly strong in advocating water power for the generation of electricity instead of oil burning, and made a plea for discouragement of the use of fuel oil for everything except that for which there is no substitute and called for support in the capitalization and development of natural resources. Coles closed by stating that it was estimated that it would require $750,000,000 for development of electric power in the western states during the next ten years, and that more than 50 per cent of that would be used in California.

The membership committee appointed by Chairman McClure follows: O. H. Chamberlin, J. A. Thomson and M. Schoonmaker.

Like to Make Lemon Pies? Read Tribune Bureau Recipes

What is the difference between a question box and a kitchen cabinet? No difference today, for so many requests came in for recipes that the TRIBUNE'S Information Department looks like a kitchenette. Here is one of the many queries along this line that came in:

Two questions I should like to ask. The first is how to make a meringue pie that will not fall after removing from oven, and how to bake a pastry shell for pies. Mine always shrink down in the pie pan after they're in the oven about five minutes. Kindly oblige a very interested reader.

A good recipe is to take the whites of two eggs, well beaten, two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, ½ tablespoonful lemon juice or ¼ teaspoonful of vanilla. Beat the whites until stiff, add sugar gradually and continue beating. Then add flavoring. Do not have the oven too hot. In making the crust do not cut it off too close but push up the crust around the edge of the pan so that it sticks above the edge of the tin. Prick bottom with fork to make air holes.

Pastry Shell for Pies:—1½ cups flour, ½ teaspoon salt, one-third cup lard, cold water. Reserve 1 tablespoon lard, work remainder with flour, using tips of fingers or a case knife. Moisten to a dough with water. Place on floured board, pat out with hands, spread with the reserved lard, flour and roll.

The statutory registration fee is $1. A copyright lasts 28 years and can be renewed within one year prior to the expiration of the original term, by the author or relatives of the same.

Here is another query that just came in:

Who is the author of the Battle Hymn of the Republic?

Julia Ward Howe.

The Information Bureau of the TRIBUNE will answer promptly and accurately all questions of a general nature, with the exception of school problems, legal problems, debates, and queries as to the time of day. If answers are required by mail, stamps must be enclosed.

"Mountain Play" to Be Given on Tamalpais

Preparations have been completed for the annual production of the "Mountain Play" on the slopes of Mt. Tamalpais tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock sharp. This year's play will be Dan W. Toth's new three-act Indian legend drama, "Tameipa." It will be given as usual in the natural amphitheater on the mountain side.

The titular role will be played by Ada Beveridge. Others in the cast will be May O'Keefe, Dorothy S. Heitman, Morrie Ankerman, Frederick Smith, Katherine Edison, Frank Ray, Raymond Mayon, Florence McGlynn, Ruth Ormsby, Corinna M. Brougher, Dan W. Toth, Joseph Plinge, Cyril Breslin, Russell Stimmel, Jack Hittman, Philip Wetherall and Thomas Miller.

Eighty members of the Alpine Club will play the parts of Indians and evil spirits. Jack Hittman, baritone, will sing a solo. George B. Edwards wrote the incidental music for the piece. Garnet Holme will direct the production as in the past. The play will be presented under the auspices of the Mountain Play Association, of which Mrs. D. B. Easton is secretary-manager.

LICITOR PERMITS FORGED.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 21.—Four thousand cases of whisky, valued at more than $300,000 have been withdrawn from three Kentucky distillery free warehouses on forged permits within the last six weeks. It was announced at the office of the collector of internal revenue for Kentucky here. The permits came from Pennsylvania.

Dollar Day!

By special request the opportunity to buy a lot in this beautiful residence park has been extended. But tomorrow, Sunday, is positively the last day for these terms. After that, if any lots remain, terms will advance greatly.

Study the location of Chevrolet Park on the above map. Note that it adjoins Mills College, has the same marine view, with trees in and surrounding it. Note the San Francisco transportation over the Southern Pacific, and the local transportation to the heart of the property. Locate the nearby schools, both grammar and high, and the growing manufacturing district that will increase your property values.

$1 down---$1 a week

secures any lot you may select. Two-thirds of the tract was sold last Sunday, but this fully improved property contains nothing but good lots. It is your gain that you can buy an improved lot here today for less than it would cost to duplicate the improvements alone, at present costs. Come out and get your lot.

RESIDENCE LOTS—$250 to $550
BUSINESS LOTS—$385 to $695

All improvements are in. No interest or taxes until July 1, 1922.

Chevrolet Park is the best improved tract in California. Concrete streets, like the State Highways, are in. 4-inch and 6-inch cast iron water mains are installed throughout, and the sewer system is in. Poplar trees have been planted along the roadsides, and are now well along. Moderate building restrictions are encouraging to those wishing homes within the near future.

The S. P. (Melrose Branch) Electric Railway, with a through line to the Mole, is but five blocks away. The San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways has just extended transportation to the center of this tract by a permanent bus line connecting with the end of the 55th avenue carline. Grammar school within two blocks. Fremont High School within walking distance.

CLOTURE URGED TO END DEBATE ON NAVAL BILL

Republican Leaders Seek Way to Expedite Action of the Alameda Base Site.

By J. BART CAMPBELL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Closures, or restriction of debate, is being seriously considered by Republican leaders of the Senate today as a means of checking off the filibuster, thus clearing the way for the passage of the $500,000 navy appropriations bill with conducting in an attempt to prevent final action on provisions for a "big" American navy.

The Senate is not in session today, a recess having been taken last yesterday afternoon until Monday, after several hours were consumed in speech-making by Senator Johnson, Democrat of Arkansas, and other opponents of the proposed naval supply base at Alameda, on San Francisco bay.

The fight over the Alameda project is expected to be renewed on Monday. Both its proponents and opponents concede the outcome is doubtful.

The Alameda project was incorporated in the navy bill by the Republican majority in control of the Senate naval affairs committee after the bill's passage by the House recently. Provision is made for an initial appropriation of $1,000,000 for preliminary work on the planned naval supply base, which had the endorsement of a joint committee of the Senate and House naval affairs committee which visited San Francisco bay, as well as of high naval officials.

NEEDED AS SUPPLY BASE.
Senator Poinsett, Republican, of Washington, acting chairman of the naval affairs committee, vice Senator Page, Republican, of Vermont, who is ill, is leading the fight for the Alameda appropriation. He denies there is any intention of "scrapping" the Mare Island navy yard, in Upper San Francisco bay, and establishing any project in Alameda more pretentious than a supply base near the entrance of the bay, to which naval vessels may have easy access for supplies. His opponents, notably Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, contend otherwise, and a discussion of the project threatens to hold up the bill itself indefinitely. Republican leaders fear, unless closure is invoked.

Discussion of the Japanese situation in connection with the naval sea and land defenses, proposed for the Pacific coast and for American possessions in Pacific waters, also promises considerable discussion before the bill is disposed of. The Borah disarmament amendment is yet to be voted upon, and altogether the greater part of next week may be utilized in fresh speech-making unless Republican leaders succeed in shutting off unlimited debate.

The army appropriations bill is still pending on the Senate calendar and other important legislation is tied up by deadlock over the naval bill. Republican leaders plan to develop a way of breaking this deadlock when the Senate reconvenes Monday, but the bill's opponents declare there will be lacking the two-thirds vote necessary to invoke closure.

1000 Gallons of Gas
Burn in Hayward Fire

HAYWARD, May 21.—Fire of unascertained origin at 1 o'clock this morning made a spectacular torch of the Associated Oil Company's filling station at First and A streets and brought out the whole Hayward fire department.

Three tanks recently installed contributed 1000 gallons of gasoline to the blaze, which resisted the best efforts of the fire-fighters for more than an hour. The firemen concentrated their hoses upon surrounding property and heavy power wires endangered by the flames.

An explosion is reported to have preceded the first outburst of fire.

Thousand Eastbay Riders in Parade Here Recall Cycle's Former Road Supremacy

Models of Weird Design Are Peddled Alongside New Wheels in Oakland

Headed by Fred St. Onge, trick cyclist of world-wide note, upwards of 1000 bicycle riders paraded on a "bicycle" parade through the city of Oakland today, from the City Hall plaza to Lakeside park. The procession brought back memories of 20 years ago, when the "bike" sport was at its height.

There were bicycles from Oakland, bicycles from Alameda, bicycles from Berkeley, from Richmond, from San Leandro—from the entire Eastbay district. There were a couple of tandems, one tricycle and a "motor-cycle" thrown in for good measure.

St. Onge rode his 1885 high wheel model and with him was Charles M. Wright of San Leandro, also on a high wheel model. A fresh "two-story" bicycle was ridden by D. H. P. Jones.

The parade formed at the City Hall plaza at 10 a. m. It proceeded through Broadway, to Eleventh, to Franklin, to Thirteenth, to Lakeside boulevard and along the drive to Lakeside park.

At the park St. Onge gave a demonstration of the trick riding for which he won fame on the track and on the vaudeville stage. Copies of St. Onge's book on cycling were distributed free among the bicycle enthusiasts. Other souvenirs, such as pins and buttons, were also given away.

Among the outstanding features of the rally today was the original manner in which St. Onge delivered the principal talk of the day. The major portion of his lecture was made while he sat stationary upon an unsupportive bicycle. St. Onge, it is said, can retain this pose indefinitely. Despite his position upon the stationary "bike," St. Onge emphasized his remarks with natural gestures without even suggesting losing his balance.

Final arrangements for today's rally were made last night at a meeting with dealers of the Eastbay district.

St. Onge recently gave exhibitions of trick riding at several of the Oakland schools. One of the features of today's rally at Lakeside park was the giving away of a late model bicycle to one of the paraders.

Caffein in Moderation Is Declared Safe Stimulant

BOSTON, May 21.—Caffein in the moderate quantities consumed by the average coffee drinker is declared to be a safe stimulant without harmful after-effects in a preliminary report issued by a scientific committee convened at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology since June, 1920. The investigators, directed by Professor Samuel C. Prescott, head of the department of biology and public health, who makes this announcement of the first findings of their research, are now at work to isolate and identify the other constituents of the coffee bean, especially those which determine the flavor and aroma, preliminary to studying the most nutritious of brewing beverages.

"The effect of caffeine is known," says the report. "For the majority of normal individuals it is a mild stimulant of the heart, increases power to do muscular work, increases concentration of mental effort, and therefore the power to do more brain work. It is not followed, except in excessive doses, by undesirable after-effects. A few people are especially sensitive to coffee, and for them its use is not to be recommended. In these cases the abnormality is in the individual rather than in any inherent poisonous or deleterious property of the caffeine itself."

"Caffein can be taken by the vast majority of healthy adults without subsequent narcotic or depressant effect, provided it is used in moderation and not abused. Excessive amounts incite temporary disturbance in the central nervous system, but these do not cause any permanent injury. It is equally true that other normally harmless substances, such as salt, sugar or condiments, when used in excess, may also produce untoward symptoms which are often severe. Our studies lead us to entire agreement with the results stated by Hollingworth that when taken with food in moderate amount caffeine is not in the least deleterious."

Permanent Surcharge On Gas Considered

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—The railroad commission has taken under advisement the petition of the Pacific Gas and Electric company to have a 15 per cent emergency surcharge on its electric rates granted last year on account of a water power shortage, made permanent. The surcharge expired April 10, but the commission allowed a 10 per cent surcharge to continue pending a decision on the company's petition. The extra money thus collected to be refunded in case the surcharge was not made permanent.

The company's attorney urged the necessity of liberality in the matter of rates in order to put the corporation on a financial basis. Representatives of northern California municipalities opposing the increase asserted that even without the sur-

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Illness, followed by a period of despondency, resulted today in an attempted suicide on the part of Mrs. Mary Lawless, 29 years old, wife of an electrician of 1436 Valencia street. She swallowed poison and was found in a helpless condition by a friend. She was hurried to the Mission Emergency hospital and it is believed has a chance of recovery.

Patrolman Daniel A. Pallas of the Central station was patrolling Powell street, near Green, early today when he caught one John Castled, lugging an unwieldy bundle. He stopped the man and discovered that he carried a quantity of cigars, cigarettes and tobacco. The officer finally obtained the confession that he had stolen the cigars from the Kim Yuen Company, 900 Grant avenue. A 10-inch steel bar was found in his stocking. He was charged with burglary.

Concealing themselves in the Civic Auditorium after the crowd attending the St. Ignace festival had departed, Henry Maher of 2510 Pine street and Russell Frederickson were found by the police at 1 o'clock this morning and taken into custody. Maher had two Navajo blankets and Frederickson one. After an investigation by the officers Maher was charged with petty larceny and vagrancy and Frederickson with vagrancy.

The final hearing of the petition of the Great Western Power Company for permission to continue to collect a surcharge for electricity in Northern California, was held today before the State Railroad Commission. Closing arguments were heard. Attorney Caffeine Hall appearing for the power company and P. S. Brittan for the Farmers' Federation.

Denies Chastising Lad Who Killed Self

Mrs. A. Maloney, 2520 Filbert street, today denied that she had chastised Harry Finkelstein, 15-year-old son of Joseph Finkelstein, who committed suicide by hanging himself to a rafter in the basement of his home at 2513 Filbert street Tuesday evening after he was alleged to have been chastised by his father for going into Mrs. Maloney's yard to secure a ball which had gone over the fence.

According to the police report on the matter, Mrs. Maloney first chastised the lad herself and then reported his actions to his father. Mrs. Maloney states that she did not speak to the child and that she knew nothing of the trouble whatever until the ambulance came to remove the lad to the receiving hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

SENTENCED AS VAGRANT.

Henry Stanley, charged with vagrancy, was sentenced to 30 days in the city prison today by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell. He was arrested Wednesday by Police Sergeant J. H. Walters. When questioned by Walters he was unable to give an account of himself.

CLERKS IN 'DRY' OFFICES GETTING RICH: WHEELER

Prohibitionist Declares Booze
Withdrawn for Beverage Purposes.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Declaring it was not possible to draft a bomb-proof liquor law, Wayne R. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, told the house judiciary committee late yesterday that prohibition commissioners were making more money in a week through dishonest dealing with fraudulent permits for withdrawal of alcohol than they would earn on straight salaries in two years. Approximately 25,000,000 gallons had been withdrawn in the last year, or considerably more than a quart for every man, woman and child in the country, Wheeler said. His was the concluding argument on the Volstead bill to tighten up the Volstead law and prevent sale of beer to the sick. Wheeler contended that of the 35,000,000 gallons fully 80 per cent was used for beverage purposes. He suggested amending the law so that none of it could be removed until by medical certificate it had been rendered unfit for drinking.

Touching only lightly on the question of beer as a medicine, Wheeler presented hundreds of petitions from many states, most of them from doctors, opposing any let-down in the Volstead law under which beer could be prescribed for the ailing.

Boys Held by Police
Fixed for a Holdup

RICHMOND, May 21.—George Campbell, 23, and Fred Martison, 18, of San Francisco, were picked up here last night by the police and held for investigation. Campbell carried a revolver and a pistol in his belt. They also were found to have masks made of handkerchiefs. Police here are inclined to put some credence in the theory that they have been implicated in one or another of the many recent hold-ups.

MAYOR GIVEN ROSES

As a sample what can be grown in Oakland soil, a nursery company today sent Mayor Davis twenty-five splendid varieties of roses. Each variety was entirely different from the other, and the collection included every known color. The flowers have been placed in vases and are on exhibition in the Mayor's anteroom.

YEOMEN ENTERTAIN.

The men of Oakland Homestead 339, American Yeomen, entertained the women of the lodge last night. One feature of the program was a banquet. Chairman George Hildreth headed the entertainment committee. A dance will be held in Aracadia dance pavilion by the Yeomen on Friday evening.

Only in Sunday's Edition of Oakland Tribune Will These Features Appear

After ten weeks spent in travel Sir George N. Barnes, former member of the British war cabinet, has returned to London and today resumes his cable dispatches to THE TRIBUNE, replacing Arthur Henderson, who substituted for him. Barnes comments this week on the Silesian controversy, the German reparations tangle, America's entry into the allied councils and the British mining strikes.

Lloyd George is criticized by Andre Tardieu, former French high commissioner, for his attitude in the Silesian controversy. France has yielded so much to the British premier, says the Paris statesman, that he now imagines himself master of every situation. Lloyd George's hatred of Poland is given as a cause for his attitude, but the writer says France will remain firm in her position and the problem will be settled satisfactorily.

Maximilian Harden, German publicist and statesman, believes that the breach between France and England cannot be healed. Those nations, always far apart, were brought together by the war, he says, but now each has a different motive and each suspects the other, with the result that the split is growing wider. The war brought to England all she wanted, while France believes herself deceived and outwitted. Her ambition is to occupy the Ruhr valley and control the mines and factories of Silesia. To this Britain never will agree, says the writer.

According to William Bird, cabling from Paris, the Bird-Lloyd George row has all the earmarks of a dog fight. It should not be taken too seriously, he says, as both these men are politicians and are playing a subtle game. In the end a compromise will be reached. More important, the correspondent thinks, is the result of the Italian elections, which shows that the Socialists still have a firm grip on the government.

Two financial and commercial authorities contribute articles to THE TRIBUNE containing matters of great interest. Harden Colfax says that the banking and business situation in the United States today is fundamentally sound and that danger of a credit crisis is passed. This encouraging condition, he says, is due to the efficient working of the Federal Reserve system. Stuart P. West, Wall street expert, believes the darkest clouds have passed over the financial community and nothing is to be feared from the recent reaction on the stock exchange. He looks for the real revival to open early in 1922.

Prominent labor men fear that the destruction of the department of labor is aimed at by measures that have been introduced in Congress, says Ralph Barton. Compromises and other leaders are alarmed, he says, and are preparing to combat the interests which they believe to be responsible for the move.

Robert T. Small says that President Harding has let it be known that Ambassador Harvey is speaking for him in London and that the envoy will be the spokesman for the United States in the allied supreme council. One reason given why Harding has decided to take part in the deliberations of the supreme council is that this powerful body will be called upon to decide the Yap mandate question. With the United States voting and France and Italy favoring the American contention, Japan will have only Great Britain to support her claims and will be outvoted, 3 to 2.

Elizabeth King Stokes gives an interesting close-up view of Postmaster General Hays at work.

Robert C. Benchley, associate editor of Life, is stirred to poetry over honors that have been paid in this country to Mme. Curie.

Ex-Emperor Flees
From Journalists

BUDAPEST, May 21.—The former Emperor Charles was so fearful that an attempt would be made to kill him when he tried recently to regain his throne as king of Hungary that he fled before the approach of five Hungarian newspapermen who went to Steinmanger to interview him. In a moment he encountered Bishop Migon, who reassured him with a few whispered words. Charles waited, received the surprised journalists and, with a few friendly words, spoken in a trembling voice, dismissed them.

DEMOCRATS RAP HARVEY'S TALK ON LEAGUE IN SENATE

Hitchcock Says Ambassador to Britain Has No Authority to Commit U. S.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Ambassador Harvey's dinner address in London was described yesterday by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, leader in the fight for the ratification of the treaty of Versailles in the Senate, as "a discreditable performance."

"Colonel Harvey evidently forgot that he was speaking as the Ambassador for the United States," said Senator Hitchcock in a formal statement. "His attempt to commit Harding's administration to his own narrow and extreme views on the League of Nations may succeed. I shall be very much surprised, however, if President Harding gave him the authority to do so. Neither the Ambassador of Great Britain nor the Ambassador to any other country is the one to announce the foreign policy of the United States."

CONFLICTING STATEMENTS.
Senator Richardson, Democrat, Tennessee, charged Harvey with having made "remarkably conflicting statements" in declaring that this nation would not have anything to do with the League of Nations or its commissions while announcing that he would represent this government in consideration of the Silesia question. "The Supreme Council," said Senator McKellar, "is acting for it (the League of Nations) and appointed by it."

Richardson Re-elected
Head of State Press

SACRAMENTO, May 21.—State Treasurer Friend W. Richardson was re-elected president of the California Press Association at its meeting recently in the Petrified Forest of Arizona. Richardson returned today from the excursion of newspapermen and their families. Other officers elected were Justus F. Craemer, Orange, vice-president; Orin A. King, Jackson, secretary; R. W. Walker, Vallejo, treasurer. May 27.

MARTINEZ, May 21.—Henry V. Hoffman, former business man of Concord, is in the county jail today facing a charge of embezzlement preferred against him by Matthew H. Granfield of Concord. Hoffman's arrest is said to have resulted in a deal involving automobile supplies. He was arrested in Marysville yesterday on instructions from the Sheriff's office and was returned here last night by Constable John Ott of Concord.

1st Christian Will Observe Fathers' Day

The First Christian church will observe Fathers' Day tomorrow. Rev. H. A. Van Winkle, the pastor, will preach an appropriate sermon in the morning at 11 o'clock on the subject "That Dad O' Mine." Special music by the church choir will complete the service.

Tomorrow evening Dr. Van Winkle has chosen for his theme "The Scepter of Power." Special music will feature the service.

The following new members were welcomed into the church last Sunday morning: Miss Lulu Koehler, Roy D. Case, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Williams and daughter, Verma, Mrs. J. Conkling, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ruth, Mrs. T. Barker, Arthur Armstrong and Miss Sue Hendrick.

The monthly meeting of the Men's club, held last Tuesday evening, brought out a group of sixty-five enthusiastic men. It is stated, "One of the features of the evening was the method taken of introducing the men to each other. Each guest was called upon to rise, tell his name, his business, his hobby, where he was born, and how long he had lived in California."

The topic of discussion in the Christian Endeavor which closed at 8:30 o'clock tonight is "My Favorite Saying of Christ and Why." Miss Vida Smith will lead.

PILGRIM CONGREGATIONAL

A series of six funerals based on studies from Harry Emerson Fosdick's book, "The Manhood of the Master," will be given by Rev. C. W. Wadell, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational church, during the remainder of the month of May and throughout June.

The first of the series was given last Sunday. The subjects and dates for the series are as follows: May 22, "The Master's Magnanimity"; May 29, "The Master's Loyalty"; June 5, "The Master's Indignation"; June 12, "The Master's Sincerity"; June 19, "The Master's Self-Restraint"; June 26, "The Master's Self-Restraint."

Minister Fails as Judge; Public to Be Called Upon

Here are four amateur thespians of the Allegro club of the First M. E. church, snapped while interpreting a minuet dance. This will be one of the features of a musical "soiree" which the club will produce on Tuesday evening at the Y. W. C. A. They are (from left to right), MILTON TAYLOR, EDNA COBBLE-DICK, FLORENCE CABLE and CHARLES DOUGLAS.

Judging the relative merits of four entertainments put on by four groups of a church choir is far too delicate a feat to expect of a minister, according to Rev. John Stephens, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Over a year ago the Allegro club was organized, the requisite for membership being membership in the church choir at the First church. During the spring months it was decided to divide the club into groups.

PASTOR TO TALK ON MAJESTY OF MOUNTAINS

"The Majesty of the Mountains" was the third of a series of sermons, will be given by Rev. N. W. Pendleton at the South Berkeley Community church tomorrow night. Moving pictures will be a part of the program, and there will be special music by the Park Choir, under the direction of George S. Johnson. At the morning service the sermon will be given by the Rev. Argo, who is visiting in Berkeley from Canada.

A musical service will be held at the Sunday school under the direction of Mrs. Collins, superintendent. Violin selections by members of the Sunday school choir, by the junior choir, and a selection by the Alpha sextette will be features of the program.

Christian Endeavor services at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening will be led by Florence Thompson.

EPWORTH LEAGUE OF FIRST M. E. TO HOLD BIG EVENT

The so-called "Big Event" which the Epworth League of the First M. E. church say is filled to the brim with entertainment, both gastronomic and artistic, will take place in the First church on Thursday evening, May 26. Eight events will be featured.

The first is an informal banquet, with the soft strains of the league's orchestra leading enjoyment to the musical. Vocal numbers and a reception to the guests of honor will follow. The next event of importance will be a minstrel-quenching toast. The evening will be closed with an Irish comedy and "an eye-opening movie."

NORTH BERKELEY BAPTIST

"Changed by a Look" and "The Word of a Man" are the subjects of two sermons which Rev. Albert Thurgott, pastor of the North Berkeley Baptist church, Columbia and Catalina avenues, will give tomorrow at the morning and evening hours.

J. E. Menzies will lead the young people's meeting at 6:30 tomorrow evening and J. L. McKibben, the superintendent, will lead the Sunday school, which meets at 9:45 a. m. Motion pictures will be shown in connection with the evening service. Thursday evening, June 2, has been set aside as the date for the perfecting of the organ.

THE FOREIGN BORN.

Now that the new law restricting immigration has been passed by Congress and signed by the President, it may be possible to take a dispassionate view of the foreign population in the country. By listening alone to the arguments advanced in favor of the restriction bill, one was apt to conclude that a perfect inundation of foreigners had swept over the land and would suffocate it instantly if a drastic remedy was not applied.

The new law fixes the rate of annual immigration now possible at a number from each foreign country equal to three percent of the number of the nationals of that country in the United States at the taking of the 1910 census. This provision does not take into account the departures of foreigners from the country. But if there should be no departures the increase in the foreign population under the new law would be much greater than in any past decade.

Taking the census bureau figures as a guide, as the new immigration law must, there were in the United States last year 13,703,987 persons of foreign birth. Compared with the census figures of 1910, the increase in the alien born in the ten years from 1910 to 1920 was only 358,442 persons, an annual average increase for the decade of 35,844.

These figures include not only the newcomers from Europe, Australia and Canada, but also those from the nations of Central and South America, Asiatics and negroes, who comprise a minute percentage of the alien arrivals, are not included in these statistics.

If all the aliens who have emigrated to the United States since 1910 with the intention of making this country their home had distributed themselves in equal groups throughout the forty-eight States of the Union, the annual increase of the population per State, that could be charged against the new arrivals, would have been only 747 persons. But this did not happen. Instead they sought homes in the great cities, with the result that of the entire alien-born population of the country, a little more than one-fourth reside in the State of New York, while almost one-half are credited to the States of New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

In 28 of the States the alien population decreased and in 20 it increased, in the decade that ended last December 31. In Illinois the increase was so small as to amount to a standoff.

Arizona showed the greatest increase and Illinois the smallest, the plus for Arizona being 66 percent and for Illinois only 2 percent. The increase for New York was also very near a standoff, being only 2 percent. Massachusetts, which ranks fourth among the States with the largest alien population, showed an increase for the decade of only 2.5 percent. Pennsylvania, with the second largest alien population, showed a decrease of 3.6 percent. Missouri a decrease of 18 percent, while Kentucky heads the list with the largest percentage of lost alien population, the percentage decrease in that State being 23.2 percent.

The census of 1910 shows that in the decade 1900-1910 the alien-born population increased in every State but five—Tennessee, Kentucky, Louisiana, Nebraska and Wisconsin. From 1900 to 1910 the alien population jumped from 10,213,817 in 1900 to 13,345,545 in 1910—an increase of 3,131,728, or 30.7 percent, as compared with the 2.7 percent increase for the last decade.

Of the twenty-two States west of the Mississippi River only six—Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Montana, Washington and California—show an increase of the foreign-born population in the last decade, and the census statistics show that the increase in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas was largely Mexican. Of the twenty States showing an increase sixteen are east of the Mississippi, and the bulk of the increase is in the States north of the Potomac. The total alien population of all the Southern States, including Texas, is only 563,515 out of a total of 25,106,944, or one alien to every forty-four natives.

These statistics should compose our fears. The country is not dominated by the alien-born and if intelligent and fairly consistent efforts for the Americanization of foreigners are put forth there is no reason why they cannot be fairly rapid assimilation of the foreign-born into our economic and cultural life.

ONLY A ONE WAY RULE.

The unchallenged leader in the agitation for the division of Alameda County displays considerable peevishness over the fact that Alameda city is considering the possible courses it might follow in the event the alternative scheme of the so-called consolidation carries and that city is forced to become one of at least three separate county units of what now is Alameda county. The leader of the division plot also grieves for Alameda. He points out, with a force that he has not commanded in previous connections, that a consolidated city and county government for Alameda city would be expensive and would entail the duplication of existing municipal offices.

Unfortunately the statements of this leader of the scheme of county division in favor of his project have not exhibited that quality of reliability necessary to commend to favorable attention his views on the possible course Alameda city would take. But it should be observed that he has volubly urged a procedure which would inevitably mean the division of Alameda county into three major parts and the establishment of a city and county of Oakland as a money-saving device for Oakland.

This same device adopted by Alameda, he finds, would bring a costly and cumbersome duplication. The leading proponent of county division recognizes that Alameda may become a separate county, but it would be thoroughly bad and harmful for it to adopt the same scheme he is promoting for Oakland.

It is curious how one may find himself so far from logic and consistency—and from the truth.

THE LONG WAY AROUND.

It is reported from Honolulu that a delegation of nine members of the Japanese parliament are due to arrive in San Francisco within the next few days. They will make a tour of the country and exchange courtesies with officials and leading citizens. The Crown Prince and heir apparent of Japan is in England just now. He is visiting European countries with the avowed purpose of increasing his fund of useful information and paying graceful compliments to European governments.

An underlying and a very substantial reason for all these visits is the desire of Japan for good will. She is hunting good will, trying to recover much that she has lost. And it is typical rather than exceptional, that Japan should resort to these methods of pomp and formality rather than to the infinitely more simple way of doing the right and moral thing in international transactions.

Japan has been compelled to observe that neither world sentiment nor judgment is entirely favorable at this time. The Japanese immigration and California anti-alien land questions do not alone disturb her. Nor does the Yip controversy exhaust the list of her troubles. In China and Pacific Russia she has provoked enemies that will live through several generations. She finds that there is an overwhelming sentiment in the British dominions of Australia, New Zealand and Canada against the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese military alliance. More than that popular sentiment in the British Isles is against renewal of the alliance, and on the painfully renewed ground that it does not look well for Great Britain to make with an Oriental power an agreement which may be interpreted as an unfriendly act toward the United States.

The situation has become so acute that in Japan there is a growing sentiment that it would be unwise for the Tokyo government to seek a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, because it might make new enemies for Japan.

It is a curious thing that there are not clear-thinking Japanese statesmen to see that the quick and effectual way to allay suspicion in China, East Siberia and elsewhere, is to remove the causes of suspicion and to wipe out the record of wrongdoing by forthright reparation. The Japanese government should be frank and searching with itself.

THE MAKING OF BOOKS.

According to figures gathered by The Literary Digest, there has been a steady decline in the number of volumes published in the United States since 1915, though the truth of the remark about the making of many books seems still beyond question. In 1920 the total was 5,422, which is 2,023 fewer than in 1916. A possibly disquieting fact is that the decline has been principally in the fields of Philosophy, Theology, Religion and Law. To a superficial view, it would seem that the war laid a heavy strain on them all; and the impression is confirmed by the fact that, in the face of the general decline, the number of books of fiction, which always heads the list, has in the past year increased.

If the nation were turning away from philosophy, religion and law to novels, it would be a sad thing, the anxiety would indeed be bad; but there is an element in the problem which makes confidence not impossible. Owing to the vastly increased cost of paper, printing and binding, books have about doubled in price, and even at that it is necessary to sell vast quantities in order to make ends meet. Before the war a book that sold one thousand copies was generally held to have paid for itself. Nowadays the number is somewhere between four and five thousand. In any time many of the books that are intrinsically best have very small sales; under present conditions they cannot be put in print except at the author's expense. The sales of fiction are comparatively large; and even when there is doubt as to the commercial value of a novel, it is often published on the chance of catching the popular taste. So there may be quite as much philosophy, religion and law among us as ever; the figures only show that, if so, a damper has been put on its expression.

Though the output of fiction has gained in the past year, moreover, it is still much less than it used to be. In the decade between 1900 and 1910 every year had a larger total of fiction than 1920.—New York Times

NOTES and COMMENT

Not even the building tie-up can stop construction by this season's high school graduates of castles in the air. Nor hinder work on the June bride's house of cards.

Enforcement having been called off, whisky has dropped to 25 cents a glass in Chicago, with the demand great. Doctors and undertakers have made no reduction in rates, however.

With the summer moon coming up this way, Kansas City has legalized spooning in the public parks and Wyoming has provided physical tests for prospective bridegrooms. Thus does Nature equalize things.

Governor Miller of New York has signed the legislative act creating a boxing commission and authorizing fifteen-round bouts, but the members of the boxing commission are to receive no compensation. If they would try the system of no pay for boxers there would be little use for boxing commissions.

Dr. Einstein is not the only one who cannot measure the universe, but he enjoys the distinction of being in the very select company of those who confess their inability to accomplish this feat.

After the urgent duty of caring for the disabled veterans of the late war is discharged it will be appropriate to center attention on the duty to honor those who died, and in that connection it is a splendid thought to plant trees and dedicate wooded parks to the memory of the heroes who fell in battle—nurturing and protecting some living thing is a simple but eloquent way.

Secretary of the Navy Donby has denounced the Italian charges of atrocities by American marines as being all "rot." Nevertheless it is to be hoped that England will not appoint a committee of 100 to investigate the complaints of the Italian malcontents.

The ultimate in suspicion and meddlingness is reached by those who object to these 300 doughboys on the Rhine who married German girls bringing their brides home on the ground that they may introduce new methods of making home brew.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The "raid" on Tijuana has a decidedly suspicious look. Tijuana's vice is at a discount these days as an attraction to sightseers, and the passport force at San Diego has been looting. With the smoke of a rebel raid still in the air, no doubt there has been a rush of tourists from San Diego to the squalid little group of shacks just across the line—Bakersfield Californian.

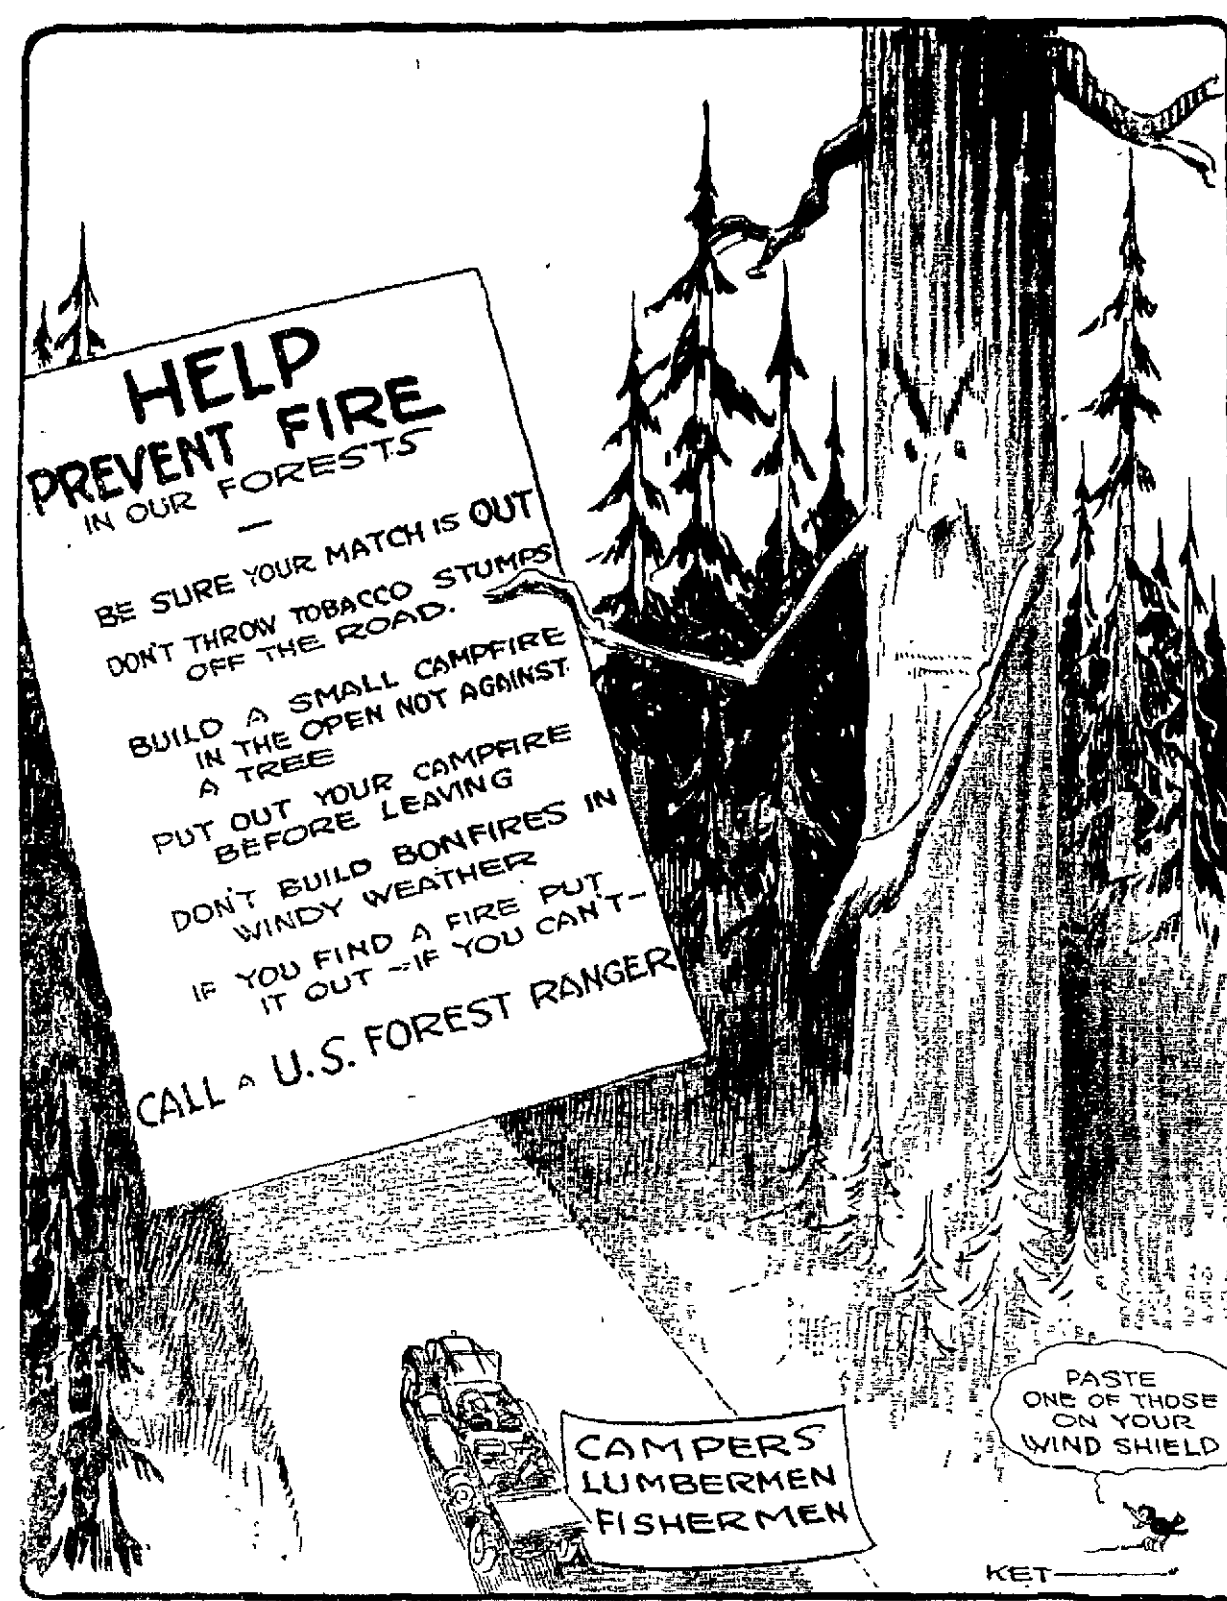

It has been jokingly suggested that beginning with a Council having one woman member, Sacramento some day may have a Council of women only. But that is a reality in Thayer, Kansas, which has a new city administration made up wholly of women. They have, however, given two jobs to men—one as city treasurer, the other as assessor. Neither the assessor, however, and the treasurer is known as "the bald hornet of the Neosho."—Sacramento Bee.

The price of San Quentin bags has been reduced from seven and one-half cents to seven cents a bag. The State Board of Prison Directors has ordered this reduction in price, and also decided to remove the restriction as to quantity, so that growers and consumers and those desiring a purchase bag may now put in orders for any quantities as they desire.—Dixon Tribune.

Machinery department officers at the navy yard are authority for the statement that the electrical gear of the battleship California will be ready for its real tests by the first of July. The principal gear was supplied by the General Electric Company, and experts from that company will be on hand to assist in the tests.—Vallejo News.

The previous record price for a carload of cherries—$3345—was obtained early last year in the New York market, has been beaten twice this season, the third car from the state, which left Sacramento May 5, selling in Chicago on the 8th for $5588, and another car, which left Sacramento on the 6th, sold for $5569 in New York.—Vacaville Reporter.

FOR GOOD WILL.

Speaking in the Senate upon the Colombian treaty, Mr. Polinder said that he could not follow Senator Lodge and some other leaders in their support of ratification now when they had opposed the pact in 1917. It is a mathematical certainty, he contended, that if they were right then they are wrong now. And that, of course, is the truth.

The inconsistencies of Senator Lodge have become so glaring of late that a little thing like a double-backaction should astonish no one. But many another Senator took the leap with him, and really there is no mystery whatever concealed in their acrobatic performance.

"We cannot do business in foreign countries unless we have the good will of the people with whom we are to transact business," Senator New explained. Because we had not come to an agreement with Colombia we were being assailed throughout South America by propaganda, he asserted, and that was ruinous to our trade.

And so, in the interest of trade and of pleasant relations, we are going to give up twenty-five million dollars. Senator Polinder sees in it an attempt to purchase friendship "which will create contempt among all other nations." And perhaps he is right. Quite likely he is, for as a matter of fact, we are yielding to a species of blackmail.

It is rather a sordid matter and we won't get anywhere by closing our eyes to the fact and trying to deceive ourselves into the notion that we are acting justly. We are buying—or endeavoring to buy—good will, and that is all there is about it.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

MAYBE PLANE NEEDED GAS

For the first time in Deever's history the police have received a call for an aerial ambulance.

"There's an airplane stuck in the air right over my home at Twelfth avenue and Euclid street," said a woman who telephoned to the Capitol Hill police substation. "I think you'd better send an ambulance of some kind here to be ready if it falls."

Patrolman Rudolph Herman and George Wolf were preparing to start out "to be ready" for the drop when the woman called again.

"Never mind now," she said. "Another plane has just come up and the other one apparently is all right and going on."

Inquiry in the neighborhood proved that two airplanes did sail over the locality as reported, but the identity of the alarmed woman was not ascertained.—Rocky Mountain News.

Gilbert K. Chesterton said at a luncheon in New York: "I hate snobs. Snobs are vulgar. Whenever I hear two snobs discussing the social status of this person or that, I think: 'Well, they are no better than my old charwoman.'"

"My old charwoman said one evening over a pot of beer: 'Mag! Oh, Mag's a lady, she is. When Mag gets drunk she can take a cab home.'"

What You Can Do About Painful Ingrowing Toenails

By ROYAL E. COPELAND, M. D.,
Commissioner of Health, New York City.

It is not alone by the major ailments that we are made miserable. There are a number of simple things which sap our strength and make us ill.

One of these is the ingrowing toenail, a condition in which the edge of the nail cuts through the soft tissues and becomes imbedded in the flesh.

Needless to say, such a condition is always painful and may even become dangerous because of secondarily occurring infection. The big toe is the one most likely to be affected. The size, thickness and strength of this nail and the pressure placed upon it by the shoe combine to make it a source of trouble.

There are a number of predisposing causes of ingrowing toenail. The most common is the evil habit of wearing stockings that are too short and shoes that are tight. A silk or cotton stocking feels so soft and yielding it does not seem possible it could be responsible for serious foot troubles, but it can be

PAIR DENY PART IN ROBBERY OF ALVARADO BANK

"Little Goog" Rossi and Pal,
"Lefty" Foley, Plead "Not Guilty."

William Albertson, alias "Little Goog" Rossi, and Thomas ("Lefty") Foley, declared to be two of the desperadoes who were brought before the California courts, pleaded not guilty to a charge of complicity in the Alvarado bank robbery this morning before Judge G. E. Samuel. Rossi's trial was set for July 11 and Foley's for July 5.

Foley has been identified by August May, president of the bank, as the man he fought with when he escaped from the district room as the robbery was in progress. Foley is declared to have pointed a revolver at May, who struck it from his hand, and knocked the bandit down with a heavy iron safe in the jaw. Rossi, who was just in the rear of Foley, is alleged to have shot May as his partner crumpled on the floor.

HEAVILY MANACLED.
Heavily manacled and chained to each other, the men were taken from the county jail to the courtroom, where they were closely watched by deputy sheriffs during the proceedings.

When asked by Deputy County Clerk Martin whether he pleaded guilty or not guilty, Rossi said: "Guilty—no, I mean not guilty."

"Well, you have pleaded two ways," said Judge Samuel, "which is it to be?"

Rossi replied: "Not guilty," and explained that he meant to plead guilty to a prior conviction.

Each man is alleged to have served three terms on various charges, including robbery and murder. Rossi is alleged to have been in the middle of several years ago. Only one prior conviction is charged against each man in the information.

Foley pleaded not guilty to both charges.

STRONG DEFENSE PROMISED.
Attorney Ray Lintforth, who was appointed a few days ago to defend both men, but whose absence at that time caused a continuance of the pleadings until today, declared he would make as vigorous a fight as possible for his unguilty clients.

Foley stated before Judge L. S. Church, who appointed Lintforth, that he wished to reserve the right to select his own attorney later. Judge Church told him he was free to discharge the appointed attorney at any time he wished.

Veteran Is Given Military Funeral

With a firing squad from Oakland Post No. 5 of the American Legion, Michel Busch, former private in Company C, 25th Division, who was wounded and gassed overseas and who died early Tuesday, was given a strict military funeral at St. Mary's cemetery today.

The funeral services were held under the auspices of Oakland Post No. 5. Busch's death resulted from his having been gassed overseas. Busch was 30 years old. His only living relatives are two brothers, one of these is Louis Busch of Oakland. The other brother, who was also wounded overseas, is now in Dalmatia.

Busch was in the hospital seven months. His home was at 13 Thirteenth street.

Couple Seeks Divorce After Re-marriage

RENO, Nev., May 21.—After having made two ventures upon the sea of matrimony with his present wife, William Nathan Clark of Oakland has filed suit for divorce from Vera E. Clark.

The complaint filed by Clark states that the plaintiff and defendant were re-married in Los Angeles in February, 1918, following a decree of divorce dissolving their first marriage. In January, 1920, according to Clark, his wife secured a divorce and attempted to kill him and was only prevented from doing so by her inability to discharge the revolver. The complaint further alleges that his wife accused him several times of infidelity in the presence of several other persons.

Empire Day Program Planned At Berkeley

BERKELEY, May 21.—Empire Day will be celebrated by four Britons in the college city at a celebration planned for next Tuesday evening by the Berkeley Overseas club at its clubrooms, 2025 Durant avenue. The speakers will be Mayor Louis Bartlett and Rev. Richard Trelease, pastor of All Souls church. Songs will be given by Mrs. Horace Ivis and A. E. Egan.

The program will begin at 8:15 o'clock and will be open to the public.

CHILD'S BANK STOLEN

ALAMEDA, May 21.—Mrs. V. H. Wilson of 339 Portola avenue, reports someone entered her home and stole a child's bank containing $4.80.

Appointments

"Modern Fixtures," words to conjure with, and in the appointments of the home or apartment none more important than its heating system. ## "In the Palace Garden" Is Fruitvale Student Offering

Part of the cast of "In the Palace Garden," a play presented last Thursday afternoon and evening by children of the Fruitvale Elementary School.

"In the Palace Garden" was the title of a play given by children of the Fruitvale Elementary School Thursday afternoon and evening in the new Fruitvale school auditorium.

Both performances were well attended and the work of the children in the various roles is described as having been of an unusually high quality. All the characters were well interpreted.

J. K. Norton is principal of the school. Among the students taking an active part in the play were children in Miss McKinnon's and Miss Matteson's rooms.

STILL IS FOUND BY POLICE IN ROBBERY QUIZ

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Inquiry was added to injury so far as Lee A. Gaston of 2375 1/2 Bush street, was concerned when, after being assaulted, bound, gagged and robbed by handits early today the police looked him up for violating the prohibition laws.

Summoned by a ringing of the bell, Gaston opened his front door to find a man inquiring for him. Two other men stepped from the shadows. Both were white handkerchiefs over their faces and one carried a gun and the other a blackjack.

Gaston was carried into a back room, his hands and feet tied and he was stuffed into his mouth. The strangers took $100 in cash and jewelry to the value of $80.

After an hour's work Gaston freed himself and telephoned the police. Patrolman John Nash from the Richmond station, in investigating, reported that Gaston had a still in operation with a half-barrel of liquor, a sack of raisins and a box of empty bottles. Gaston was taken into custody.

Mother Promises to Keep Son in School

BERKELEY, May 21.—The promise of Mrs. Clara Doolittle, 2442 Ellis street, to send her 17-year-old son, John, to part-time classes won suspension of judgment yesterday after she had been convicted of violating the State law. Young Doolittle has been working without giving the required time to study. Mrs. Doolittle was the first person convicted in Berkeley under the State law which required that minors give a certain time each week to school work.

Stranded Feline Is Rescued by Firemen

ALAMEDA, May 21.—Grant Hlicks, city poundmaster, is pained at Fire Chief Walker Steinmetz for what he considers a usurpation of authority.

This morning Chief Steinmetz received a telephone call to the effect that a cat was in a high tree in front of 1520 Pacific avenue, and unable to get down.

"Would the chief kindly send a ladder to take the cat from the tree?"

Chief Steinmetz immediately instructed Assistant Chief John Millington to take Engine No. 3 and assist the cat.

What was a fireman know about catching stray cats? That's what I'd like to know," growls Hlicks.

CHIROPRACTOR'S TRIAL SET

BERKELEY, May 21.—Edgar N. Johnson, chiropractor of 2221 Bancroft way, will come up for trial on May 27, charged with practicing medicine without license. Johnson was arraigned this morning before Judge Robert Edgar. He was arrested on a complaint sworn to by A. C. Favatt, state medical officer.

METHODISTS WILL HONOR MEMORY OF BISHOP TAYLOR

One Hundredth Anniversary of Birth of Prelate to Be Observed in Cemetery.

With many of the leading bishops and laymen of the Methodist church throughout the world participating in national services commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of William Taylor, Bishop of Africa, will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Taylor burial plot in Mountain View cemetery, Oakland.

The exercises are being held under the auspices of the William Taylor Memorial Association of San Francisco, a permanent organization.

Bishop Adam Wright Leonard of the San Francisco district, the memorial services will be opened at 2:30 o'clock. Following an invocation by Bishop W. Hamilton, chaplain of the district, and a reading of the Declaration of Independence, the memorial address will be delivered by Rev. Homer C. Stutz of Omaha, Neb., formerly Bishop of South Africa.

Dr. J. K. Norton, a son of the famous preacher, will formally present the Taylor memorial plot to the Methodist church at large.

Historic organizations of the state will be represented at the exercises. Society of California Pioneers by D. S. Levy of San Francisco, the Native Sons by Joseph H. Knowland, past Grand President Native Daughters, by Dr. Victoria A. Berwick, and others.

A reception to the visiting bishops was held this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Taylor of Alameda under a giant eucalyptus tree, the first of its kind in America, grown from seed sent from Australia by Bishop Taylor in 1855. The tree was planted by Mrs. Taylor.

Mobilized Women's Club Holds Election

BERKELEY, May 21.—Mrs. Lewis A. Hicks, still again direct activities of the Mobilized Women's Organization for the coming year as a result of the annual election of officers held by that body.

Other officers named were: Mrs. Carrie L. Hoyt, first vice-president; Mrs. Anna Taylor, second vice-president; Mrs. S. H. Surte, treasurer; Mrs. Andrew Irving, secretary; Mrs. Oscar Kunnels, auditor.

Mrs. E. K. Ross' resignation as colonel of the women's army was received and Mrs. S. H. Solbeck elected to succeed her.

'Humanitarians' Urge Government Control

BERKELEY, May 21.—Nationalization of railroads and municipal ownership of water and other public utilities are a few of the many plans which the Humanitarians, a new reform organization recently launched here, are sponsoring. The particular condition which brings about strikes will be considered at the regular meeting Monday evening.

"Frozen Fire, or How to Prevent a Labor War," a play written by Burton Hall of Berkeley, and which is said to contain a solution of the strife between capital and labor, is to be produced in the near future, it is announced. The meetings of the organization are held at the South Berkeley Community church each Monday evening at 7:30.

HANDBALL COURTS PLAN

BERKELEY, May 21.—Eight handball courts will be built by the University of California on property owned by it at Telegraph avenue and Alston way. Permission to erect the courts was granted yesterday by the city council on request from Controller Robert Sproul.

Lost $10 Is Replaced by Boy's Tears

BERKELEY, May 21.—Tears shed by Albert Gardner, 9 years old 1733 California street, resulted in collection of ten dollars being taken yesterday among customers of the First National Bank.

Sent by his mother, Mrs. A. Johnson, to draw ten dollars on her bank account, Albert lost the bill on the way home.

Returning to the bank, he asked for another $10. On being refused, the lad burst into tears.

Mrs. R. B. Scott, 224 1/2 Vine street, and Mrs. H. Broadlow, 2022 Center street, customers of the bank, came to Albert's rescue. A hat was passed around and a few minutes ten dollars had been raised. The small customer was converted into a big one, all smiling and once more Albert departed for his home.

"Jazzy" High School Show Aids Athletics

ALAMEDA, May 21.—The annual County Fair was held by the students of the Alameda high school yesterday afternoon and for three hours the large school yard was the "jazz" spot in all the regional city.

The young folks and teachers turned out in old clothes and costumes. There were many concessions of food and drink, ranging from bathing girl shows to a "African golf" was in progress. This affair was conducted with huge funds of wood and under the watchful care of numerous village constables who were constantly arresting players. These were in turn fined. Practically every stray dog and cat in Alameda was rounded up by the side show promoters to furnish the material for the "wild animal" menagerie.

The money collected at the concessions and through the police court fines went into the athletic fund of the high school.

Alameda to Erect Fountain to Heroes

ALAMEDA, May 21.—The first step toward the erection of a fountain to the memory of Oscar Sommers, Joseph Bieley and Harold Dodd, the three Bay station district boys who lost their lives in the great war, will be taken tonight when practically all of Alameda gathered at the memorial ball to be given in the municipal hall.

The committee having charge of the affair consists of R. H. Nov, J. Walker, H. Nichols, Edward Norton, G. Moeller, O. Foster, G. Honeschild, L. Honeschild, L. I. Gritter, Ray Moffitt, H. Haeckle, J. T. Kelly, S. Dunnett, J. McCullough, Victor Masson, J. Brandon, Ed Silver, Al Killin, W. Chapman, Harry Mygrand, Irving Singer, Frank Whalley, Walter Ryan, Lee Ryan, Nels Tylsen, Mike Profumo, George Kelley, John Gibson, Al Reishrahn.

Youth to Pay for 'Blind Baggage Trip'

BERKELEY, May 21.—Providing Ronald McDonald, 13 years old, 2751 Idaho street, goes to work and pays the Southern Pacific Company the price of a ticket from Stockton he will escape sentence for beating his way blind baggage to his home in this city.

McDonald told Judge Robert Edgar of going to Stockton to get a job and going broke. He admitted beating his way to Berkeley, where Southern Pacific officer arrested him.

Judge Edgar continued the case until June 11, to give McDonald a chance to get a job and pay his railroad fare.

STATE OFFICIALS QUIT JOBS FOR BUREAU PLACES

Manager and Purchasing Agt.
for Grain Exchange Are Selected.

Definite assurance that immediate work is to be started toward the erection of a grain exchange in Oakland, the building of warehouses and the making of Oakland the agricultural center of California was given today with the announcement that two prominent State officials have resigned to become connected with the enterprise.

Fred T. Bigelow, secretary of the market commission, and Arthur Baker, assistant purchasing agent for the two who have left their State jobs to become associated with the Oakland grain exchange, Bigelow is to be manager and Baker will have charge of the purchasing department.

WAREHOUSE PLANNED

Work of building the warehouses in Oakland, establishing the headquarters, both in Oakland and San Francisco, and in making an appeal by way of something that has been in a formative state for several months, will be started at once.

The exchange will be operated by the California Farm Bureau Exchange, an organization of fifty farm bureaus working in conjunction with the United States Farm Bureau Exchange. The grain elevator built in Oakland will be but one of the units in a building program contemplated.

BENEFIT TO OAKLAND

Leading agriculturists in the State say that there is no single more that could do as much to center the farm marketing business of California in any one place as this decision of the Farm Bureau Exchange to make Oakland its headquarters and look to Oakland to become the center of the State's farm and produce activity. When the warehouses are opened and the exchange is operating to its fullest extent they say it will mean that more vessels will make the city a port of call and that more of the river steamers will make Oakland their main point of destination. The city will be given an annual trade that will amount to millions of dollars.

STOLEN AUTO IS FOUND

ALAMEDA, May 21.—The automobile of E. L. Kennedy, 1112 Webster street, Oakland, stolen three days ago, was recovered by the Alameda police last night after it had stood for two days in front of the home of Mrs. F. Brandt, 84 Taylor street. She became suspicious yesterday regarding the presence of the machine and telephoned the police department. The car had been practically stripped by the thieves.

Late Start To Church Is Disastrous

Delay in starting for a Christian League service, of which he was to take charge, resulted in the arrest of William Everhart, aged 29, on a charge of speeding.

Judge Harry W. Pulcifer, before whom he was brought for trial today, ordered the automobile locked up in the stable for 60 days after reading the youth a lecture on the consistency of making standards of conduct as taught by the church conform to the law as made and provided by human authorities.

Everhart was arrested on San Francisco streets in Alameda early Sunday evening, and placed on a bench in the jail at 10 or 11 o'clock in the morning. He was released on his own recognizance for 60 days.

"Don't you think, asked Judge Pulcifer, that the tests of the law require you to obey the law?"

"Certainly, your honor," replied Everhart, "and I certainly will obey the law."

Everhart lives at 1827 Cedar street, Berkeley.

Knights Templar Are Instituted in Alameda

ALAMEDA, May 21.—Alameda Commandery, Knights Templar, was instituted by the grand officers of California last night. The affair was one of the most important Masonic functions in this city in many years and was attended by Sir Knights from practically every part of the state as well as all of the grand officers.

Is N. Christman was elected the new commander. The other officers are: H. M. Hammond, generalissimo; W. C. Chaplin, captain general; H. L. Maynard, senior warden; William Wingo, junior warden; Ford Samuel, prelate; H. T. Strachan, treasurer; Oswald Lubbeck, recorder; W. S. Condon, standard bearer; G. W. Winkler, sword bearer; Henry Schneider, warrier; K. B. Holbrook, third guard; H. E. Alsing, second guard; K. A. Schumacher, first guard; Louis Gaddall, sentinel and organist.

Elmer Johnson and Frederick Arbogast were elected honorary members because of their efforts in behalf of the commandery.

The instituting grand officers were: William H. White, grand commander; William H. Waste, deputy grand commander; Albert Doughton, grand captain general; W. C. Hassler, grand junior warden; A. J. Leander, grand junior warden; W. H. Thomas, grand prelate; W. D. Knights, grand treasurer; T. A. Davis, grand recorder; Elmer K. Johnson, grand sword bearer; F. L. Arbogast, grand sword bearer; Robert Gaylord, grand warden; and Samuel D. Mayer, grand organist.

BAPTIST SERVICES

ALAMEDA, May 21.—At the First Baptist church, Stanton street and Santa Clara avenue, Rev. A. P. Brown will preach tomorrow on "Rest in Christ for True Humanity." In the evening his subject will be "The Time to Make Good Investments." The music will be under the direction of E. A. Williams.

DOG BARKS, SHOT FOLLOWS

ALAMEDA, May 21.—A mysterious revolver shot and the barking of a dog started E. W. Sabovich, 745 Central avenue, last night. Sabovich says he first heard the dog barking and the shot followed. He suspects that the animal came upon a burglar.

The Goodness of Fresh Ripe Strawberries

Delicious, tempting strawberries, selected from the choicest of the crop, crushed and made to yield every bit of their luscious flavor, go into Miller's Quality Strawberry Ice Cream.

For dinner dessert or for mid-afternoon refreshment, at lunch or after the theatre, there is nothing so delightful as Miller's Quality Strawberry Ice Cream, rich with crushed fresh, ripe strawberries.

SCHOOLS SEEKING MORE SUPPORT IN NEW CITY BUDGETTax Limit Resolve Makes Department Pruning Real Task, Say Officials.

When the city council makes up its budget this year, officials expect it will be made for a second appropriation which will not only eliminate the early closing found necessary this year, but will make up for the financial losses sustained by the teaching staff this year.

The board of education Monday night will discuss the situation, which, it is admitted, imperils the morale of the teaching staff.

The teaching staff, meeting at Chabot hall Wednesday, pointed out that the early closing for lack of funds meant an average loss of $150 per teacher in salary that could not be earned. Instead of conducting a campaign next year for higher salaries, the educators, it is intimated, will be busy in getting back the $150 which they lost this year.

"It sets us back a year in our effort toward securing a professional salary scale for teachers," says a principal.

MOTHERS FILE PETITION.

The first actual move toward bringing the 1921-22 budget up to the requisite standard was made yesterday afternoon, when the Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs and Parent-Teachers' Association representing 2500 women, filed with a city clerk a petition asking the council to make any provision for the next year that the schools shall not be closed.

There were 40,000 school children turned out, says the petition, "and we protest against the early closing of the schools for lack of funds. We ask provision for funds next year for the full forty-week course."

Other petitions, it is said, will follow rapidly. Clubwomen and parents, it is said, are aroused over the danger of this year's early closing being repeated.

MANY BUDGET DEMANDS.

On the other hand, members of the city council admit that they are in a hard situation. Many of the city departments assert they were starved for funds last year and want more in the coming budget. Now, citizens ask a larger school appropriation. The total "askings" for the coming year, it is admitted, will be at least as large as ever before, and each department has run short during the coming year, although the council by a formal vote has pledged itself to levy a tax rate not larger than $2.44 on the $100 assessed valuation.

"The council has a hard job ahead of it," admits Commissioner Baccus of the Department of Finance.

"The council always has the job of pruning estimates to fit into the ability of the taxpayer to pay, it is admitted, but this year's school demands will make it harder.

"If the council grants the additional school money for the coming year," assert the commissioners, "some other departments will have to suffer badly. Some of the departments, including health and parks, are far behind. Still other departments barely got through. If the schools demand more money it may mean penury for some of the others."

SAILORS ARE ATTACKED.

PORTLAND, Me., May 21.—James Walker, a negro member of the crew of the schooner Mary W. Barrett, was missing today after a raid on the vessel by a gang of men who attacked five negro sailors after driving them from their bunks to the deck at pistol point. The negroes fought back, but were badly beaten.

MME. CURIE GIVEN
GRAM OF RADIUM

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Mme. Curie, eminent French scientist, received from the hand of President Harding yesterday the gram of radium purchased for her by American women in the interest of humanitarian research.

At the presentation ceremonies in the east room of the White House, a notable group of American and diplomatic officials and leaders of science and philanthropy was present. Jules Jusserand, French ambassador, formally introduced Mme. Curie, and she responded to the president's presentation address with a little speech of thanks delivered in broken English.

In handing over the little pill with its precious contents, Mr. Harding declared it represented in small part the gratitude of this nation for the discovery of radium.

Giving thanks for the gift in the name of his government, Ambassador Jusserand said the occasion was one of many manifestations of the generosity of "a people who always are a step ahead of the world."

Mme. Curie's speech of thanks consisted of only a few sentences telling of her gratitude and her regard for America.

The gram, purchased at a cost of $100,000, was locked in a little ribbon-draped cabinet. After the ceremonies the guests were tendered a reception in the blue room by the president, Mrs. Harding and Mme. Curie.

Two Slightly Hurt
in Auto Accidents

R. E. Waggoner, 55, of 1557 Webster street, suffered lacerations of the right side of the face, left thigh and right knee when he was hit by an automobile at Twelfth and Webster streets.

He was taken to the Emergency Hospital by W. S. Murray, 287 Lester avenue.

Charles Girwein, 2250 San Antonio street, Alameda, took a tumble down a flight of stairs at 1041 Twenty-third street, when he was knocked down by a car at East Eleventh street and Twenty-third street.

Leverne suffered minor bruises.

Readers Praise Dr. Cull's Novel, Which Will Be Published in SUNDAY TRIBUNE.

In connection with the publication of "The Bride of Mission San Jose," which begins tomorrow in the Oakland Sunday TRIBUNE, Dr. John Augustus Cull, the author, has received an interesting letter from J. H. Morse, a retired business man of San Francisco. In 1863 his wife was teaching school in Mission San Jose when the great earthquake of that year destroyed the ancient mission church which figures so prominently in Dr. Cull's novel.

Morse, who is a large landowner in the Santa Clara valley, the setting for a large part of the story, writes:

"Following the advice of an author friend of mine, I did not seek to borrow your book (tell him to buy it; don't lend it to him) and we have been amply repaid."

"Mrs. Morse taught school in Mission San Jose late in the 60s and saw the old church in which Carmelita was married fall in the quake of '68. I must congratulate you on a very successful book, and was gratified to learn from my friend Aleck Becker that you were finding the good sale which it deserves."

New Stunts Planned for Scioto Initiation

Plans for the first 1921 spring ceremonial to be given by Oakland Pyramidal No. 2, Ancient Egyptian Order of Scioto, embody stunts the nature of which is being kept concealed, according to Chris Nielsen, topharch of the Pyramidal, who is declining to offer, with Charles Tate as his assistant.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock in the municipal auditorium; 150 candidates will be initiated during the evening, with elaborate ceremonies. An impressive pageant will be one of the features of the initiation.

When the class has been initiated an informal dinner will be served. Delegations of members from San Francisco, Berkeley and San Jose will attend the affair.

Naval Hero to Give Naval Battle Facts

FOUR ARRESTED,
FIFTY GALLONS
LIQUOR SEIZEDCorn Whisky Found in House
Was for Nervous Ailment,
Is Claim.

Four men were arrested in various parts of the county and over fifty gallons of liquor were seized by the federal officers. The raid was conducted under the direction of Federal Enforcement Officer C. H. Kusper and the Oakland morals squad.

A bakery shop and soft drink parlor conducted by two brothers, Jack and Joe Caratti, in the outskirts of Livermore was the first place to be raided. They found five gallons of jackass brandy and ten gallons of wine. They also got twelve quarts of jackass brandy hidden in various parts of the house. They told the officers that the liquor was for their own use.

The officers, with a warrant, searched the soft drink parlor of George Cummings in Niles. A pint of corn whisky was found in the ice chest. Cummings said he is a nervous man and had the liquor for his own use.

J. M. Hearn, owner of a soft drink parlor at 1039 Twenty-third street, was the last man to be arrested. His place of business is on the corner of Twenty-third and Railroad avenues. A barber shop in the rear of Hearn's building was where he kept his liquor. At first he denied that the five gallons of jackass brandy which was found in the barber shop belonged to him. When the officers told him that they would have to arrest everyone in the barber shop and saloon he admitted that the liquor was his.

The four men were released on their own recognizance by United States Commissioner Albert M. Hardie.

Salvation Rescue Home
Will Be Given Endowment

Following a visit to Benish Heights where the present Salvation Army rescue and maternity home is located, Mrs. James E. Wilkins, San Francisco woman widely known for her philanthropies, announced today that she would outfit one room in the new home at East Twenty-eighth street and Garden avenue and would permanently endow it.

"And I am going to tell my friends of the wonderful work being done by the Salvation Army in Oakland; how the betrayed and friendless and world-weary girl finds loving shelter and care at the Salvation Army home, and ask them, too, to aid the good cause," said Mrs. Wilkins.

Mrs. Wilkins, act has given renewed impetus to the financial appeal in the amount of $30,000 which the Salvation Army campaign committee is making in behalf of the rescue and maternity home.

The women of the Piedmont Interdenominational Church have announced that they will furnish all the linen for one of the rooms in the new rescue and maternity home.

J. Cal Ewing, chairman of the campaign committee, says the appeal will continue until every cent of the $30,000 is subscribed.

DEER 'HORNS IN,'
BUT IT'S 'HORSE'
ON ITS CAPTOR

When is a deer not a deer? When it's a horse on its captor. So, at least, thinks George F. Anderson, who is still the embarrassed possessor of the deer captured on his property in the Hollywood district last Wednesday afternoon.

The deer "horned in" as it were, while Anderson was mowing grain on his land. J. Floyd Perry, 1790 East Thirty-seventh street, happened to be passing. Perry, who was formerly a cowboy, succeeded in roping the animal with a length of rope from a hay wagon.

The Oakland Park Board, as well as several public amusement parks, have politely but firmly declined all offers on the part of Anderson and Perry to make them a present of the deer.

Unable to chloroform, electrocute, poison, shoot or give away the deer, which is now occupying Anderson's barn and daily developing a more enormous appetite, Anderson is facing a problem for which there seems no adequate solution.

San Francisco Woman
Is Suicide in East

CINCINNATI, May 21.—Mrs. William G. Fisher, 25 years old, of San Francisco, Cal., ended her life today by firing a revolver bullet into her right temple when in her bedroom in the apartment of her aunt, Mrs. Kathryn Clark.

Mrs. Clark said she could ascribe no motive for Mrs. Fisher's act.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Mrs. Fisher was the wife of William G. Fisher, salesman for the Western Motors Company. The couple resided at a hotel at 153 Bush street. Fisher was in Sacramento today when he received word of his wife's death. He wired his firm that he would return to San Francisco this afternoon and leave for Cincinnati tonight. From friends it was learned that Mrs. Fisher had been in ill health for some time. The accompanying her husband to the Chicago automobile show in January and went from there to Cincinnati.

AS INTERESTING AS YOUR EVERY-DAY MAIL

THE advertisements in this paper were written to you. It is impossible for most merchants and manufacturers to send you a personal letter about their goods, their wares and their services. So they pay us for the privilege of calling these things to your attention in our advertising columns.

If they did not know that a certain proportion of our readers would be vitally interested in their message, they could not afford to advertise. It would be a losing proposition.

Read the advertisements as you would a personal letter. Many of them are just as important—and just as interesting. They will help you to economize and to keep posted on store news of real interest to you and your pocketbook.

Don't lay aside this newspaper without reading the advertisements.
